Israeli Planes Stage Attack On Syria

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli warplanes struck in force across the Syrian cease-fire line today for the first time since the 1967 war, bombed two Arab guerrilla bases and engaged in dogfights with Syrian MIGs near Damascus.

Israel claimed its planes returned unharmed after shooting down one Syrian MIG17. Damascus radio said three Israeli jets and two Syrian fighters were shot down.

An Israeli army spokesman denied any Israeli planes were shot down.

Israel did not announce how many Israeli planes made the raid, but a spokesman said the Syrians sent up about 10 or 12 MIG17s and MIG21s. This announcement and broadcasts from Damascus indicated it may have been the biggest Arab-Israeli air clash since the 1967 war.

The cease-fire line between Israel and Syria had been relatively quiet since the June 1967 war, but the Israeli army said the raid was in retaliation for a sharp increase in guerrilla attacks along the border since Jan. 20, including the machine gunning of a civilian bus Sunday.

The army said two soldiers were killed and three were wounded in 12 incidents of mining and shooting in the occupied Golan Heights, which Israel captured from Syria in the six-day war.

A spokesman said the Israeli planes bombed two locations—Maisalun, on the main Beirut-Damascus highway 10 miles west of the Syrian capital, and El Hamme, on the Syrian-Lebanese border. He said El Hamme was the headquarters of the Al Fatah commando organization for both Syria and Lebanon, and Maisalun served as a training base.

The Israeli army claimed guerrillas from El Hamme fired on a bus carrying 50 laborers Sunday and wounded one.

The spokesman charged El Hamme is a staging area for guerrillas returning from training in Egypt, Algeria and Communist China, from which "they are sent to carry out sabotage actions against Israel."

Syrian exiles in Lebanon said El Hamme is also the site of Syria's largest munitions plant.

A Syrian army communique broadcast by Damascus radio claimed the attack was against civilian targets in Maisalun and El Hamme. It said 20 civilians were wounded, including a Lebanese doctor and a young girl traveling to Damascus.

AP correspondent Farouk Nassar reported from Damascus that planes could be seen flying high over the Syrian capital, and the sound of gunfire, explosions and antiaircraft guns reverberated through the city.

The Syrian army communique reported air battles went on for nearly two hours.

An Israeli general staff officer told newsmen several hundred guerrillas were believed to be in the Al Fatah bases and he estimated damage inflicted by the bombing was "quite serious." He said the Israeli jets strafed and bombed, adding: "I don't think napalm was used."

The Israeli officer said the army had known of the two Al Fatah bases for some time and said the increase in terrorist incidents along the Golan Heights "could mean the Syrians had adopted a more militant attitude in permitting those saboteurs to operate."

Asked if the attack was connected with the attack Feb. 18 by Arab guerrillas on an Israeli jetliner in Zurich, he replied: "Zurich is Zurich. This a different kettle of fish."

"We assume we can't stop the problem of sabotage," the officer said. "It is going to be with us for some time. But the operation succeeds in upsetting plans and machinery and causes casualties. The Syrians might think twice before allowing the situation to escalate."

An Israeli attack also was reported at the southern end of the country, with Jordan the target.

A Jordanian military spokesman reported that seven Israeli jets and four half-track armored vehicles crossed the Jordanian-Israeli cease-fire line north of Aqaba Sunday. He said three of the half-tracks were destroyed by Jordanian troops, and a number of wounded Israeli soldiers were evacuated by helicopters. Two Jordanian soldiers were wounded, he said.

After the ground battle, the spokesman said, Israeli jets fired rockets at Jordanian position for more than an hour, damaging a regional police station.

Eisenhower's Surgery Seen As Successful

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is "resting as comfortably as can be expected," Walter Reed Army Hospital officials announced today after late-night emergency abdominal surgery.

A brief statement issued at 10:30 a.m. EST said the general's heart condition was stable. The combination of Eisenhower's 78 years and history of seven heart attacks had made the surgery a decided risk.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emergency stomach surgery on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, complicated by his age and repeated heart attacks, was pronounced successful today by a team of Army doctors.

A report issued at Walter Reed Army Hospital shortly after midnight omitted any indication of the 78-year-old five-star general's chances for recovery.

But use of the word "successfully" was taken to mean that Eisenhower, who six months ago had appeared near death, was not in imminent danger.

President Nixon, in Brussels on the first stop of his five-nation Western European tour, was described as "pleased" with the report. Aides said he was being kept constantly informed of the condition of the man whom he served as vice president for eight years.

The two-hour and 20-minute operation, performed by a seven-member surgical team, had been accepted "with equanimity" by Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie. She had rushed to the hospital earlier Sunday from their farm home in Gettysburg, Pa.

Eisenhower also had been visited by his son John and brother Dr. Milton before undergoing the delicate operation that was described by one authority as a "terrible risk" for a man of his age and medical history.

The condition was first reported Saturday night, but the decision to operate was not announced until shortly before 8 p.m. Sunday.

It was 4½ hours later that Brig. Gen. Frederick J. Hughes Jr., commanding officer of the hospital where Eisenhower has been bedridden in the third-floor presidential suite since May, went before newsmen to say:

"Gen. Eisenhower underwent surgery for intestinal obstruction this evening. The procedure began at 9:10 p.m. and terminated successfully at 11:30 p.m. The obstruction was found to be due to two large adhesive bands

Nixon Plans Soviet Talks

Tells NATO Of 'Future' Negotiations

Speaks In Brussels; London Next Stop, Parley With Wilson

BRUSSELS (AP) — President Nixon told America's European allies today that he later will "enter into negotiations with the Soviet Union on a wide range of issues," and he promised to consult with them both before and during the talks.

Nixon, in a speech to the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization during the first stop of his eight-day European trip, did not hedge about prospects for eventual Soviet-American talks. He said there will be negotiations "in due course, and with proper preparation."

The President made no mention of two crises of paramount concern to the Atlantic allies: the new dispute between the British and French governments, and the possibility of an East-West confrontation in Berlin.

Instead, with the aim of revitalizing the Atlantic alliance, he emphasized a pledge that "the United States is determined to listen with new effectiveness to its NATO partners."

To underscore this policy declaration, he said that because American-Soviet talks would directly affect the nations of Western Europe, the United States will approach Moscow "on the basis of full consultation and cooperation with our allies, because we recognize that the chances for successful negotiations depend on our unity."

He went on:

"I realize that this course has not always been followed in the past. But I pledge to you today, that in any negotiations directly affecting the interest of the NATO nations, there will be full and genuine consultation before and during those negotiations."

Nixon said he knew the allies had felt "that too often the United States talked at its partners instead of with them, or merely informed them of decisions after they were made instead of consulting with them before deciding."

"The United States is determined to listen with a new attentiveness to its NATO partners," he declared, "not only because they have a right to be heard but because we want their ideas. And I believe we have a right to expect that consultation shall be a two-way street."

Reds Lose 1,000 In Attacks

Enemy Rakes 50 Towns And Posts

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops raked more than 50 towns and military posts with rockets, mortars and light ground attacks today in the second day of countrywide attacks. American officers said the enemy had started a spring offensive intended to generate pressure from the American public for concessions at the Paris peace talks.

President Nugyen Van Thieu said the offensive had been "completely foiled" with heavy losses to the enemy. The U.S. Command announced that more than 1,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had been killed since the attacks began Saturday night.

Allied casualties include about 100 American soldiers and an equal number of South Vietnamese troops killed, at least 146 American soldiers and more than 100 South Vietnamese troops wounded, and at least 66 civilians killed and another 250 wounded.

Military spokesman said enemy gunners had shelled Saigon and Da Nang, South Vietnam's two largest cities, 20 provincial capitals, and 29 district capitals. Some towns were hit several times.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, taking a plane to return to the Paris peace talks, said he would recommend a resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam if shelling of South Vietnam's cities continued. He said his South Vietnamese air force could do the job alone if necessary—"they are ready."

Allied spokesmen said the sec-

43 To Seek Nominations In Brotherhood Primary

Forty-three will seek nominations for the 12 top posts in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in a primary election March 4, including three bidding to succeed E. L. Wheatley, retiring president.

The candidates for the presidency are John Andrason of East Liverpool, a member of Local 336 in Sebring; Floyd Jividen of Newell, a member of Local 9 in East Liverpool, and Lester H. Null of East Liverpool, now third vice president and a member of Local 220 in New Orleans.

Wheatley will retire when his current four - year term runs out in 1969. It is the first occasion in the modern history of the Brotherhood that an incumbent has not sought another term. Wheatley has been an international officer since 1933, when he was elected first vice president, and has headed the union since 1956.

The two candidates receiving the top votes for each office will run again in a general election May 6. The IBOP said ballots have been mailed to all

Curious Questions

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Museum visitors ask lots of curious questions.

For instance, two elderly women touring the Philadelphia Museum of Art were fascinated by a trickling 11th century French marble fountain.

Where does the water come from, asked one. A museum guide explained that an electric motor kept recirculating the water.

That's fine, said the woman; but how did it work back in the 11th century.

Concessions Offered In Berlin Crisis

BONN, West Germany (AP) — The latest Berlin crisis eased today after both West Germany and East Germany offered concessions.

The situation was this: If West Germany calls off plans to elect its next president in West Berlin March 5, then East Germany will allow West Berliners to cross the wall into East Berlin for the first time in three years to visit their relatives during Easter.

West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger accepted the Communist offer to negotiate but indicated he wanted a "lasting settlement" going far beyond Easter.

Informed sources said a decision had to be reached quickly if the elections were to be relocated.

East German leader Walter Ulbricht made the offer of concessions this weekend through the Soviet Ambassador to West Germany, Semyon Tsarapkin, who met in Stuttgart Sunday with Kiesinger for the second time in 24 hours.

Tsarapkin told Kiesinger that shifting the election to a city inside West Germany would be "a contribution to detente and toward promotion of better Soviet-West German relations."

The conciliatory moves came four days before President Nixon's visit to the divided city 110 miles inside East Germany.

TAKE YOUR TIME IN '69

Debbie Lynn Messenger, 6, of Route 39, Salineville RD 2, was killed Saturday night when her mother's 1968 sports coupe backed down a driveway and into a hillside.

Debbie was the daughter of Mrs. Patricia Spencer and Donald Messenger, who is serving with the Army in Germany. Harry Spencer was her stepfather.

Debbie and her 19-day-old brother, Michael Lee Spencer, were thrown from the vehicle as it swerved from the drive. The baby received abrasions and was relased Sunday from Salem City Hospital.

Debbie was dead on arrival at City Hospital here. Dr. Roy Costello, deputy coroner, said death was caused by fractures of the skull and jaw and ruled it a traffic fatality — Columbiana County's eighth this year, compared with five at this date last year.

Sheriff's Deputies Robert Wellington and Dan Gartland investigated after receiving word of the tragedy from Chief of Police Gordon Sweeney of Salineville, who had been notified by the hospital.

The deputies talked to Dr. Costello and the Spencers at the hospital. Later they went to the scene of the accident — the home of Harry's father, Gerald Spencer, on Roses Run Rd., Salineville RD 1. They said the accident occurred about 8.

Mrs. Spencer told the deputies she had driven to her father-in-law's place between 7:30 and 8, expecting to meet her husband.

The mother said the car was gone when she came out of the house. She ran down the driveway and found the children lying on the gravel road. The rear of the car was against an embankment.

Deputy Wellington said the car drifted about 100 feet and made "sort of a U-turn" into the hillside along the drive. The car did not upset and was undamaged, he said.

$143 Taken At Newell In Two Entries

At least $143 was taken from two Newell businesses early this morning, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Thieves broke into the Rogers Esso service station at 505 Washington St. and Raimond's Market at 410 Washington St., taking cash from registers at both establishments.

Deputies said the thefts took place some time between 3:30 and 6 a.m. They pinpointed the time as the space between their last check of buildings in the village and the discovery of the entries by the owners.

About $80 in cash was taken from the service station after the burglars entered by throwing a brick through a wide window. They obtained a key from the register, opened the soft drink machine and obtained an additional $3 in change, authorities reported. The entry was discovered about 6 by the station's owner, Dave Rogers.

Thieves used either a brick or piece of iron to break into the market. They first broke a small window, apparently found they could not get through and jimmied another to gain entry.

Officials said some $60 in cash was taken from the register. Owner Frank Raimond said he has not determined whether any cigarettes or other articles were taken.

He reported one of his boys discovered the breaking about 7 a.m. when he went to the store to get food for his school lunch.

Deputies are continuing the investigation.

Officers Probe Hit Skip Crashes

Police are continuing investigations into three hit-skip collisions that marred East Liverpool's weekend traffic.

A motorcycle passenger complained of injuries in one of the hit-and-run mishaps, timed at 2:40 p.m. Saturday on St. Clair Ave. at McKinnon Ave.

Gary Wagner of S. Surry Rd. was a passenger on a 1968 motorcycle operated by Donald Talbot, 19, of 715 Avondale St. which was struck by an auto that emerged from McKinnon onto St. Clair.

Wagner was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the right knee and foot and lacerations of a toe.

Talbot told police he was riding north on St. Clair Ave. when the car drove off McKinnon Ave. without stopping, pulling into his path. He said the cycle hit the auto on the left door. Fire Chief Lists Water As Cause Of Fire At Club

The water leak which indirectly caused a $25,000 blaze at the Owls Club in the East End Saturday began about 4 p.m. Friday, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne said today.

The Fire Chief completed his investigation of the fire over the weekend, and said the Mulberry St. structure will have to be razed.

Chief VanDyne said he had inspected the building a week ago and found all in order.

However, he said a water break occurred about 4 p.m. Friday, and water accumulated underneath the flooring and in three false ceilings of the recently remodeled structure.

The water no doubt caused a short circuit in the wiring, igniting the blaze, he said.

Van Dyne commented that only six men were available to respond to the first alarm since the department currently is undermanned. He said the telephone at the Central Station was unprotected for a time until another truck could reach the station.

VanDyne reported six 1½-inch lines were in use along with two 2½-inch lines, two 24-foot ladders and a 12-foot ladder. He said the department's new light plant was used and performed very well. No firemen were injured.

He expressed his appreciation to the firemen who fought the blaze, including several off duty men called after the second alarm and to city police who aided with traffic in the area.

Stock Transaction Joins Mullins And Lamp Firm

SALEM — Checks valued at more than $200,000 were mailed today as part of a refinancing and reorganization of the Mullins Manufacturing Co. engineered by Harry D. Hirsch, president and chairman of the Hall Lamp Co. of Detroit.

Hall Lamp is exercising its option to buy 76 per cent of the 11.7 million shares of Mullin stock obtained last June from the J.M.L. Trading Corp. of New York.

Officials of Mullins say the transaction insures the 650 jobs here and that some 500 firms will receive a portion of the money Mullins owes them, making a reality of Hirsch's plan to save the faltering 97-year-old firm.

Hirsch, who was raised in Philadelphia and has spent 30 years in the manufacturing business, undertook a refinancing of the Hall Lamp Co. in 1953 to save that firm.

Gordon Scullion, Mullins treasurer, said the company was faced with a huge debt it was unable to pay, and Hirsch came in, met with a creditors' committee, conferred with management and the steelworkers union, and worked out a satisfactory agreement.

Fire Chief Lists Water As Cause Of Fire At Club

The water leak which indirectly caused a $25,000 blaze at the Owls Club in the East End Saturday began about 4 p.m. Friday, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne said today.

The Fire Chief completed his investigation of the fire over the weekend, and said the Mulberry St. structure will have to be razed.

Chief VanDyne said he had inspected the building a week ago and found all in order.

However, he said a water break occurred about 4 p.m. Friday, and water accumulated underneath the flooring and in three false ceilings of the recently remodeled structure.

The water no doubt caused a short circuit in the wiring, igniting the blaze, he said.

Van Dyne commented that only six men were available to respond to the first alarm since the department currently is undermanned. He said the telephone at the Central Station was unprotected for a time until another truck could reach the station.

VanDyne reported six 1½-inch lines were in use along with two 2½-inch lines, two 24-foot ladders and a 12-foot ladder. He said the department's new light plant was used and performed very well. No firemen were injured.

He expressed his appreciation to the firemen who fought the blaze, including several off duty men called after the second alarm and to city police who aided with traffic in the area.

Skyrocketing Medical Costs

The insurance industry, caught in a cost-price squeeze, has found it necessary to attempt a justification of rate increases.

Singling out hospital insurance as an example, the American Mutual Insurance Alliance reports that if you were to be hospitalized tomorrow in Philadelphia you would pay "up to $58 a day for average accommodations." And if you happen to live in New York City nearly every hospital there would charge you more than $100 a day just for basic room and board.

Here in East Liverpool rates run from $30 a day in men's ward to $40 for a private room.

THE JOURNAL of American Insurance says that medical care costs have advanced at a rate 54 per cent greater than the over-all rise in the government's consumer price index since World War II. And just since 1965 these costs have been rising twice as fast each year as other costs.

Spokesmen for the insurance industry charge that these "drastic increases in hospital and doctor bills inevitably increase the costs of bodily injury claims under automobile, general liability, homeowners, workmen's compensation and commercial multiple peril policies."

The billions of dollars paid annually by insuring firms which are indirect medical benefits under liability coverages are in addition to the $10 billion paid as direct medical benefits.

The insurers claim that while physicians' fees, between 1962 and 1967, rose 22 percent on the consumer price index, daily hospital room charges 54 per cent and the median family income 35 per cent, rates for bodily injury liability insurance went up only 19 per cent.

In analyzing why medical care costs are "increasing so far out of proportion to other prices," the insurance journal attributes it to a greater demand for medical services, health manpower shortages, lack of efficiency in the health care field, unusual labor demands in the field, new wage demands and advancing medical technology.

THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY can make a good case on each one of these points.

The best option left to the average citizen is to stay healthy, and remain insured. Investments in health and safety can pay off handsomely.

Protecting The Sea From Pollution

The Santa Barbara oil accident has focused public attention on the possibility of mankind's eventual pollution of the sea.

Preposterous? Not in the least. Remember when no one worried about pollution of Lake Erie?

And the United States isn't in this thing alone. It is reported that the oil industry has more than 8,600 wells on the ocean floor with more than 100 companies in 60 countries active in the field.

Every once in a while a giant oil tanker will run aground as the 120,000-ton tanker Torrey Canyon did off the coast of England March 18, 1967, and spill its crude cargo.

The problem does not begin and end with the oil industry.

Marine biologist Dr. John Bardach has written: "The most important radioactive materials now being added to the sea are those contained in cooling waters of various reactors or power plants. There are few such plants as yet, and so long as no accidents occur the effluents are kept well below critical radiation standards for drinking water . . . (but) standards of safety for drinking water concern the water itself and not the plants and animals that live in it."

As oceanographers develop new ways of tapping the resources of the deep, new sources of pollution will occur.

The vigil must be constant to avoid the catastrophe of polluting the sea. If the subject is given adequate thought at this point, decades from now people won't be wondering how in the world such a tragedy transpired.

Since oceanographers estimate the United States is responsible for a third to one half of the pollutants being put into the sea, we should take the lead in precautionary planning.

The Hearings On Hunger

Hearings on hunger in America by the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs have produced some surprising and powerful testimony from a southern senator.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D.-S.C., bared his soul to members of the committee by confessing that he had supported "the public policy of covering up the problem of hunger" when he was governor of South Carolina.

THE SENATOR said he had adopted the policy to further the cause of bringing new industry into his state and creating new jobs.

The statement by Sen. Hollings gains full shock effect by his choice of the words "covering up" to describe what went on during his administration.

He did not try to lessen his guilt by saying he minimized the poverty problem, or perhaps did not give it the attention it deserved.

His words were a frank admission that it was official policy to try to hide hunger.

The change of heart came for the South Carolinian in his recent tour of his state's most poverty-stricken areas.

It is useless to belabor Sen. Hollings for not being more concerned as a state official.

In his self-incriminating testimony, he has exhibited a depth of courage that is seen far too infrequently in the arena of politics.

of the hearing. Hunger is.

But Sen. Hollings' integrity is not the subject

Facts speak for themselves. Agricultural progress in the United States is the envy of the world. Production capability is so great the U.S. government is paying about $3 billion a year to farmers not to grow crops.

It obviously is not a question of not having enough food to go around.

AND THERE SURELY are enough administrators in the giant departments of agriculture and health, education and welfare to see to a hunger program.

What about money? Ten years ago federal income taxes scooped $54 billion into the government coffer. In fiscal 1969, the figure is expected to hit $122 billion. Somewhere in that tax jackpot there should be some dollars that could be spent to fill the empty bellies of glassy-eyed kids.

So what is missing? The desire and determination to see that the problem is moved up on the priority list and the intestinal fortitude to develop a workable program that does not degenerate into a federal boondoggle.

Seal Of Approval

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I walked into the kitchen of a friend of mine the other day and found her crying.

"What on earth's the matter, Clara?" I asked.

"They won't let Willie Mae Rogers of Good Housekeeping be the President's consultant on consumer affairs."

Art Buchwald

"That was a disappointment to me also, Clara, but I didn't think you would take it so hard."

"But if she doesn't take the job, who will protect the consumer?"

"President Nixon will find somebody else perhaps from McCall's or The Ladies Home Journal or Seventeen."

"IT ISN'T THE SAME THING," Clara said, blowing her nose. "Willie Mae Rogers believed in us. I wouldn't buy anything unless it was approved by Good Housekeeping."

"Clara, I don't want to disillusion you, but the only products that Good Housekeeping approved were those that advertised in the magazine. If you didn't advertise, you didn't get the approval seal."

"It doesn't matter. Good Housekeeping would never accept an advertisement unless they approved of the product."

"How do you know that?"

"Because Willie Mae said so. If you can't believe in the Good Housekeeping seal of approval, what can you believe in?"

"Clara, get hold of yourself. Willie Mae would have certainly made a wonderful consultant on consumer affairs but there was a conflict of interest.

"You see, she insisted on keeping her job at Good Housekeeping and there were some congressmen who felt if she had to divide her loyalties between the magazine and the President, the consumer might come out on the short end."

"THEY CAN SAY THAT. But there is nothing more American than being approved by Good Housekeeping. And Willie Mae said in her press conference that she was basically honest; so there couldn't possibly have been a conflict of interest."

"I know that and you know that, Clara, but there are always doubters and wavemakers. For example, Willie Mae Rogers testified against the truth-in-packing bill which was supposed to protect the consumer. Some of these congressmen felt she was on the side of the advertisers."

"She couldn't be," said Clara, starting to cry again. "I saw her on television and she didn't look as if she were on the side of the advertisers at all. Oh, what will happen to us now?"

"Clara, Clara, you have to get away from this personality cult. Our government was set up so that no one would be indispensable. There must be hundreds of Willie Mae Rogerses in this country."

"But none of them have the Good Housekeeping seal of approval."

"Look at it this way, Clara. If Willie Mae were working for the President, she wouldn't be able to devote her full time to Good Housekeeping. And if she wasn't testing it, a product might slip through that really didn't deserve the seal. You wouldn't want that to happen, would you?"

"NO," SAID CLARA, biting on her handkerchief.

"It may be better for the country and the President if Willie Mae stays at Good Housekeeping where the real consumer protection work in this country is being done."

"I hadn't thought of it that way. But maybe you're right," said Clara. "At least I can sleep better at night knowing Willie Mae is still in the Good Housekeeping kitchen where she belongs."

"I think President Nixon is sleeping better too, Clara."

'You Mean We Won't Be Able To Show Those Beautiful People?'

VICTOR RIESEL

Rebels Fighting Industry

WASHINGTON — Youth power apparently is finding the world of the campus too confining. The youthful lions of the SDS, the Black Panthers, and an assorted alliance of self-styled revolutionists are moving their direct action over into the less esoteric world of work — onto the picket lines, into the giant plants of the industrial belts, and even into big union headquarters.

Victor Riesel

From Long Beach and Los Angeles, Calif., to the "rag jungle" of New York's skyscraper garment area, extremists have taken time out from upending their university grounds to stir upheavals on picket lines. And where they've found no picket lines, they've invented them.

Shots have been fired. Police have been attacked. Blazes have been started in Detroit auto factories. At least one Chrysler plant labor relations representative has been stabbed.

In January, SDS activists from local campuses fanned Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers picket lines. Plant personnel were hit. Fuel trucks were shot at. Cops were jumped. The SDS slogan, obviously worked up from pads belonging to the Maoist Progressive Labor faction, said, in effect, the hell with the picket line captains, we are starting a student alliance with the working class.

NOT ALL SDS is united on this activist working class ideological coalition. But there are enough extremists to whip up and man the new movement within the movement.

In the Detroit area, which I just toured, the student support springs mainly from Wayne State University. There the militants are really up tight and turned on. Their publication, the South End, recently was characterized by the university president as "disturbingly reminiscent of Hitler Germany." Some of the extremists talk of the truth and accurate reporting as fairy tale stuff of the establishment.

Their thing is the League of Revolutionary Black Workers, a coalition of three caucuses, the Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM), the Ford Revolutionary Union Movement (FRUM), and the Eldon Revolutionary Union Movement (ELRUM). The letter concentrates on a Chrysler gear and axle plant on Eldon Ave., but the boys don't use the acronym because it would spell CRUM — which is what some 95 per cent of the industry's black workers believe it to be.

The RUMs lope out in small packs which string pickets around the gates of the big plants. The picket lines are thin. But they've been able to disrupt production.

ON JAN. 27, work was slowed and even halted on all three shifts. Protecting the line were some Black Panthers. The outcries were the usual extremist demands — only more so. After having been patient for months the Chrysler Corp. fired 25 employes who headed the ELRUM line, and suspended several score more.

During this period, there's been the invasion of the United Auto Workers Local 961, which has jurisdiction over the plant. Local union leaders, not wishing any disturbance, let the movement people sit in.

Two weeks after the wildcat strike, on Feb. 10, ELRUM's operators picketed Solidarity House, the big union's national headquarters in Detroit. Again, Black Panthers were reported on the picket line.

Finally they were admitted and conferred with Shelton Tappes, one of the UAW Fair Labor Practices Department staff. Some of the talk was rough and unprintable, even by today's up tight standards.

ACTUALLY, THERE'S NO dealing with the RUM crowd. It won't have it. Though over 60 per cent of one plant is manned by black workers, RUM asks for more and then curtly demands full managerial control.

One of the city's most respected leaders simply gave up any attempt at mediating the Panther-protected bands' alleged grievances.

"It's futile," he told a caller. "Those young people of DRUM say democracy doesn't work and they'll physically destroy the existing establishment. Obviously that unprogrammed so-called revolutionary action is moving from the colleges into the industrial field.

"We've had fires and stabbings in the plant, where thousands of workers are being trained. We do our best to upgrade, to train foremen and move as swiftly as we can in a modern industry. But nothing helps. It's those university fellows over at Wayne State here — and you'll see it flair around the nation."

Grimly he suggested that soon SDS will be known as Shut Down the Shops. It could well be. Those chaps always seek new horizons. And who can deny that picketing was their best course at college?

Disaffection In The GOP

Surprising as it may seem, there is among Republican members of Congress a considerable amount of disaffection. They are deeply concerned over some of President Nixon's appointments and particularly his selection of James E. Farmer, a Negro with radical views, to be assistant secretary for administration in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

This important appointment to the agency which deals with the distribution of federal funds to public schools and colleges is not subject to confirmation by the Senate.

The discontent manifested here is largely a reflection of letters and telephone calls coming in from constituents not only in the South but in the North. Some of them are cynically beginning to suggest that Wallace may have been right when he declared that "there isn't a dime of difference between Nixon and Humphrey."

THE OPPOSITION to the choosing of Farmer, founder and former director of one of the leading Negro organizations — the Congress of Racial Equality — is not due to the fact that he is a Negro but to the record he has made in the last decade as a militant.

Farmer, in a television interview Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," said he regards himself in his new job as "an ambassador from the black community to the administration" and to a certain extent as 'an ambassador from the administration to the black community."

But he also made it clear that he is not changing his own views as expressed in the past during some of his excursions into the South, where, he admits, he "broke the law deliberately in Mississippi and elsewhere" and "went to jail for it."

One Republican politician in the South has pointed out that Secretary Finch had remarked that one of Farmer's duties would be to recruit on college campuses new blood for the departmental staff. This raised the eyebrows of many Republicans both inside and outside of Congress.

It is recalled that Secretary Finch went out to California and said, in effect, that the administration doesn't "owe Negroes anything" because Nixon did not get the support of the minorities in 1968.

NEXT TIME, HOWEVER, if Sen. Kennedy is the Democratic nominee, the protesting Republicans feel it is doubtful that Nixon would get much of the Negro vote, anyway.

The President's theory, in selecting Farmer, undoubtedly was to get someone who would be able to understand the administration's point of view and bring about suitable compromises. The Republican critics are discounting this possibility.

The voices of disapproval are coming from some state chairmen as well as local leaders of the Republican party. They just cannot understand why the President isn't interpreting the election results as realistically as many Republicans all over the country hoped he would.

They took it for granted that he would not seek political favor by catering to special groups. It is contended that, because President Johnson did this, he got such an unfavorable response in the public-opinion polls that he decided not to run again.

The people in many school districts are amazed that threats are being made to withhold public funds from schools in order to correct "racial imbalance." Often schools which are predominantly white have a minority of Negroes only because more of them do not reside within the school district.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 forbade any deliberate attempt by the federal government to "overcome racial imbalance" — and this, of course, includes busing students from one school to another to attain that objective.

WHILE THE DISSENTING Republicans recognize that racial discrimination in the schools is illegal, they point out that the law doesn't permit a school board to force quotas or prescribe percentages, as has been done by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the last four years.

Many of the politicans are saying that President Nixon is apparently trying to satisfy demands from both sides in the school-desegregation controversy and that such straddling in the past has proved politically unfruitful and in the end has meant a loss of votes among all the contending groups.

Skyrocketing Medical Costs

The insurance industry, caught in a cost-price squeeze, has found it necessary to attempt a justification of rate increases.

Singling out hospital insurance as an example, the American Mutual Insurance Alliance reports that if you were to be hospitalized tomorrow in Philadelphia you would pay "up to $58 a day for average accommodations." And if you happen to live in New York City nearly every hospital there would charge you more than $100 a day just for basic room and board.

Here in East Liverpool rates run from $30 a day in men's ward to $40 for a private room.

THE JOURNAL of American Insurance says that medical care costs have advanced at a rate 54 per cent greater than the over-all rise in the government's consumer price index since World War II. And just since 1965 these costs have been rising twice as fast each year as other costs.

Spokesmen for the insurance industry charge that these "drastic increases in hospital and doctor bills inevitably increase the costs of bodily injury claims under automobile, general liability, homeowners, workmen's compensation and commercial multiple peril policies."

The billions of dollars paid annually by insuring firms which are indirect medical benefits under liability coverages are in addition to the $10 billion paid as direct medical benefits.

The insurers claim that while physicians' fees, between 1962 and 1967, rose 22 percent on the consumer price index, daily hospital room charges 54 per cent and the median family income 35 per cent, rates for bodily injury liability insurance went up only 19 per cent.

In analyzing why medical care costs are "increasing so far out of proportion to other prices," the insurance journal attributes it to a greater demand for medical services, health manpower shortages, lack of efficiency in the health care field, unusual labor demands in the field, new wage demands and advancing medical technology.

THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY can make a good case on each one of these points.

The best option left to the average citizen is to stay healthy, and remain insured. Investments in health and safety can pay off handsomely.

Protecting The Sea From Pollution

The Santa Barbara oil accident has focused public attention on the possibility of mankind's eventual pollution of the sea.

Preposterous? Not in the least. Remember when no one worried about pollution of Lake Erie?

And the United States isn't in this thing alone. It is reported that the oil industry has more than 8,600 wells on the ocean floor with more than 100 companies in 60 countries active in the field.

Every once in a while a giant oil tanker will run aground as the 120,000-ton tanker Torrey Canyon did off the coast of England March 18, 1967, and spill its crude cargo.

The problem does not begin and end with the oil industry.

Marine biologist Dr. John Bardach has written: "The most important radioactive materials now being added to the sea are those contained in cooling waters of various reactors or power plants. There are few such plants as yet, and so long as no accidents occur the effluents are kept well below critical radiation standards for drinking water . . . (but) standards of safety for drinking water concern the water itself and not the plants and animals that live in it."

As oceanographers develop new ways of tapping the resources of the deep, new sources of pollution will occur.

The vigil must be constant to avoid the catastrophe of polluting the sea. If the subject is given adequate thought at this point, decades from now people won't be wondering how in the world such a tragedy transpired.

Since oceanographers estimate the United States is responsible for a third to one half of the pollutants being put into the sea, we should take the lead in precautionary planning.

The Hearings On Hunger

Hearings on hunger in America by the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs have produced some surprising and powerful testimony from a southern senator.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D.-S.C., bared his soul to members of the committee by confessing that he had supported "the public policy of covering up the problem of hunger" when he was governor of South Carolina.

THE SENATOR said he had adopted the policy to further the cause of bringing new industry into his state and creating new jobs.

The statement by Sen. Hollings gains full shock effect by his choice of the words "covering up" to describe what went on during his administration.

He did not try to lessen his guilt by saying he minimized the poverty problem, or perhaps did not give it the attention it deserved.

His words were a frank admission that it was official policy to try to hide hunger.

The change of heart came for the South Carolinian in his recent tour of his state's most poverty-stricken areas.

It is useless to belabor Sen. Hollings for not being more concerned as a state official.

In his self-incriminating testimony, he has exhibited a depth of courage that is seen far too infrequently in the arena of politics.

of the hearing. Hunger is.

But Sen. Hollings' integrity is not the subject Facts speak for themselves. Agricultural progress in the United States is the envy of the world. Production capability is so great the U.S. government is paying about $3 billion a year to farmers not to grow crops.

It obviously is not a question of not having enough food to go around.

AND THERE SURELY are enough administrators in the giant departments of agriculture and health, education and welfare to see to a hunger program.

What about money? Ten years ago federal income taxes scooped $54 billion into the government coffer. In fiscal 1969, the figure is expected to hit $122 billion. Somewhere in that tax jackpot there should be some dollars that could be spent to fill the empty bellies of glassy-eyed kids.

So what is missing? The desire and determination to see that the problem is moved up on the priority list and the intestinal fortitude to develop a workable program that does not degenerate into a federal boondoggle.

Seal Of Approval

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I walked into the kitchen of a friend of mine the other day and found her crying.

"What on earth's the matter, Clara?" I asked.

"They won't let Willie Mae Rogers of Good Housekeeping be the President's consultant on consumer affairs."

Art Buchwald

"That was a disappointment to me also, Clara, but I didn't think you would take it so hard."

"But if she doesn't take the job, who will protect the consumer?"

"President Nixon will find somebody else perhaps from McCall's or The Ladies Home Journal or Seventeen."

"IT ISN'T THE SAME THING," Clara said, blowing her nose. "Willie Mae Rogers believed in us. I wouldn't buy anything unless it was approved by Good Housekeeping."

"Clara, I don't want to disillusion you, but the only products that Good Housekeeping approved were those that advertised in the magazine. If you didn't advertise, you didn't get the approval seal."

"It doesn't matter. Good Housekeeping would never accept an advertisement unless they approved of the product."

"How do you know that?"

"Because Willie Mae said so. If you can't believe in the Good Housekeeping seal of approval, what can you believe in?"

"Clara, get hold of yourself. Willie Mae would have certainly made a wonderful consultant on consumer affairs but there was a conflict of interest.

"You see, she insisted on keeping her job at Good Housekeeping and there were some congressmen who felt if she had to divide her loyalties between the magazine and the President, the consumer might come out on the short end."

"THEY CAN SAY THAT. But there is nothing more American than being approved by Good Housekeeping. And Willie Mae said in her press conference that she was basically honest; so there couldn't possibly have been a conflict of interest."

"I know that and you know that, Clara, but there are always doubters and wavemakers. For example, Willie Mae Rogers testified against the truth-in-packing bill which was supposed to protect the consumer. Some of these congressmen felt she was on the side of the advertisers."

"She couldn't be," said Clara, starting to cry again. "I saw her on television and she didn't look as if she were on the side of the advertisers at all. Oh, what will happen to us now?"

"Clara, Clara, you have to get away from this personality cult. Our government was set up so that no one would be indispensable. There must be hundreds of Willie Mae Rogerses in this country."

"But none of them have the Good Housekeeping seal of approval."

"Look at it this way, Clara. If Willie Mae were working for the President, she wouldn't be able to devote her full time to Good Housekeeping. And if she wasn't testing it, a product might slip through that really didn't deserve the seal. You wouldn't want that to happen, would you?"

"NO," SAID CLARA, biting on her handkerchief.

"It may be better for the country and the President if Willie Mae stays at Good Housekeeping where the real consumer protection work in this country is being done."

"I hadn't thought of it that way. But maybe you're right," said Clara. "At least I can sleep better at night knowing Willie Mae is still in the Good Housekeeping kitchen where she belongs."

"I think President Nixon is sleeping better too, Clara."

VICTOR RIESEL

Rebels Fighting Industry

WASHINGTON — Youth power apparently is finding the world of the campus too confining. The youthful lions of the SDS, the Black Panthers, and an assorted alliance of self-styled revolutionists are moving their direct action over into the less esoteric world of work — onto the picket lines, into the giant plants of the industrial belts, and even into big union headquarters.

Victor Riesel

From Long Beach and Los Angeles, Calif., to the "rag jungle" of New York's skyscraper garment area, extremists have taken time out from upending their university grounds to stir upheavals on picket lines. And where they've found no picket lines, they've invented them.

Shots have been fired. Police have been attacked. Blazes have been started in Detroit auto factories. At least one Chrysler plant labor relations representative has been stabbed.

In January, SDS activists from local campuses fanned Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers picket lines. Plant personnel were hit. Fuel trucks were shot at. Cops were jumped. The SDS slogan, obviously worked up from pads belonging to the Maoist Progressive Labor faction, said, in effect, the hell with the picket line captains, we are starting a student alliance with the working class.

NOT ALL SDS is united on this activist working class ideological coalition. But there are enough extremists to whip up and man the new movement within the movement.

In the Detroit area, which I just toured, the student support springs mainly from Wayne State University. There the militants are really up tight and turned on. Their publication, the South End, recently was characterized by the university president as "disturbingly reminiscent of Hitler Germany." Some of the extremists talk of the truth and accurate reporting as fairy tale stuff of the establishment.

Their thing is the League of Revolutionary Black Workers, a coalition of three caucuses, the Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM), the Ford Revolutionary Union Movement (FRUM), and the Eldon Revolutionary Union Movement (ELRUM). The letter concentrates on a Chrysler gear and axle plant on Eldon Ave., but the boys don't use the acronym because it would spell CRUM — which is what some 95 per cent of the industry's black workers believe it to be.

The RUMs lope out in small packs which string pickets around the gates of the big plants. The picket lines are thin. But they've been able to disrupt production.

ON JAN. 27, work was slowed and even halted on all three shifts. Protecting the line were some Black Panthers. The outcries were the usual extremist demands — only more so. After having been patient for months the Chrysler Corp. fired 25 employes who headed the ELRUM line, and suspended several score more.

During this period, there's been the invasion of the United Auto Workers Local 961, which has jurisdiction over the plant. Local union leaders, not wishing any disturbance, let the movement people sit in.

Two weeks after the wildcat strike, on Feb. 10, ELRUM's operators picketed Solidarity House, the big union's national headquarters in Detroit. Again, Black Panthers were reported on the picket line.

Finally they were admitted and conferred with Shelton Tappes, one of the UAW Fair Labor Practices Department staff. Some of the talk was rough and unprintable, even by today's up tight standards.

ACTUALLY, THERE'S NO dealing with the RUM crowd. It won't have it. Though over 60 per cent of one plant is manned by black workers, RUM asks for more and then curtly demands full managerial control.

One of the city's most respected leaders simply gave up any attempt at mediating the Panther-protected bands' alleged grievances.

"It's futile," he told a caller. "Those young people of DRUM say democracy doesn't work and they'll physically destroy the existing establishment. Obviously that unprogrammed so-called revolutionary action is moving from the colleges into the industrial field.

"We've had fires and stabbings in the plant, where thousands of workers are being trained. We do our best to upgrade, to train foremen and move as swiftly as we can in a modern industry. But nothing helps. It's those university fellows over at Wayne State here — and you'll see it flair around the nation."

Grimly he suggested that soon SDS will be known as Shut Down the Shops. It could well be. Those chaps always seek new horizons. And who can deny that picketing was their best course at college?

Legion Head Speaks Here

ROGER A. MUNSON, department commander of Ohio, congratulates John R. Ruhe, oldest charter member, during Saturday night's banquet at American Legion Post 374. Looking on is John Long, post commander.

An appeal to become more involved in civic responsibility was made by Roger A. Munson of Euclid, department commander of Ohio, during a banquet Saturday night at Alfred H. Wedgewood Post 374 marking the 50th anniversary of the American Legion.

More than 150 attended.

After listing Legion accomplishments since its founding in 1919, Munson encouraged members to "roll up your sleeves" and look forward to the next 50 years, "since the future is not completely beyond control."

MUNSON pointed to the distorted image "created by the loud small minority in comparison to the vast majority seldom heard from." The only way to guarantee freedom is through complete obedience to law and order, he declared.

James H. Cregar, past president, past Columbiana County commander and past commander of the 10th District, was master of ceremonies.

Thomas Davidson, second vice commander, led the flag salute. Fr. Robert Sfara of St. Ann's Church gave the invocation and benediction. Vocal selections were presented by Ernest Lowe, accompanied by Mrs. Lowe.

The welcome address was given by Comdr. John Long and the response by Norman Bucher, president of East Liverpool Council. Guests introduced were Robert E. Vodrey, safety - service director, Paul Zehnder of WOHI and Mrs. Clara Hall of The Review.

Legion dignitaries recognized were Charles Summers, 10th District first vice commander; James R. Poynter, second vice commander; Ray Cunningham, county vice commander; Long, county commander; Robert Milne, county adjutant, and Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, 10th District Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Lois Burdick, district secretary. William Bratt represented Wellsville Post 70.

Anniversary pins were presented to members. Charter members present were Edward Landfried, Charles H. Moore and John F. Ruhe. Past commanders introduced were James Wallover, Ruhe, Poynter, Cregar, Landfried, Long and Densel McKinney. Past county commanders were Moore, Poynter and Cregar. Wilbur Harmon was cited as a 49-year member.

Richard G. Brian, speaking on behalf of the March of Dimes, presented a service award plaque to Cregar.

Mrs. Louis Skvarka, Auxiliary president, introduced her officers — Mrs. John Reardon, first vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Yost, second vice president; Mrs. Gilford Burdick, secretary; Mrs. James Baumgard, treasurer; Mrs. Michael Vohar, chaplain; Mrs. Elizabeth Hooper, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. George Hughes and Mrs. Gilmer Smith, color guards, and Mrs. Donald Calhoun, historian.

The dinner was prepared and served by Auxiliary members. A patriotic theme featured the tables, which were covered with blue cloths. Centerpieces were vases of gold colored flowers.

A dance followed, with music by the Country Swingers of Elwood City, Pa.

Annual Event Held By Cubs

Bennett D. Taylor, county Boy Scout executive, was guest speaker at the annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Pack 36 in Calcutta Friday night at the fire hall.

Lou Landfried, training chairman for the district, was toastmaster. He introduced the Rev. Richard L. Shipley, pastor of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church, the sponsoring institution.

Recipients of various awards were James Sosack, Wilbur Krafft, Danny Powell, Gary Jackson, Tom Scott, Robert Turner, Mark Mellington, Jack Lower, Brad Pethtel, John Bertschy, David Dunn, Bill Parsons, Bill Allen, Mike Massey, Phillip Steele and Curt Billingsley. Taylor assisted Lynn R. Cowan, cubmaster, in presenting the awards.

Robert Morgan and Danny Kirkbride received the Arrow of Light award, the highest award a Cub can earn. Cowan presented the award and then the boys were accepted into Troop 36 by James Cunningham, scoutmaster, and two of his scouts, Jeff Cartwright and Jim Cunningham, first-class scouts.

The cubmaster received a surprise birthday cake and a gift from the pack. A plaque was given Taylor by the cubmaster on behalf of the pack. Also recognized were Ted Toothman, assistant cubmaster, and den mothers, Mrs. Toothman, Mrs. W. G. Billingsley and Mrs. Dale Krafft. Group singing was led by Mrs. Toothman and Mrs. Billingsley's dens and a skit was presented by Mrs. Krafft's den.

The next meeting March 28 will feature uniform inspection. A leaders' meeting will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

Deputies Raid Bowling Alley Near Chester

Ordering the first raid of his administration, Hancock County's Sheriff Ralph Patrick sent deputies to Terrace Lanes on Route 30 Saturday night, where the owner was arrested and liquor confiscated.

Four deputies headed by Arnier R. Durham entered the bowling alley about 11.

Armed with search and seizure warrants, the deputies confiscated 48 bottles of liquor and charged operator Arthur Lewis of Route 30, Chester, with possession of liquor on a beer-license premises. Lewis was released on $107 bond for a hearing Wednesday at 11 a.m. before Squire John D. Herron.

Lewis was arrested last November in another raid by state police, was fined and appealed the action to the circuit court. The case is pending.

What the American Public Should Expect from a Funeral Director

Full Disclosure of Costs
The public should always have available in time of need or in advance full information about funeral prices and services. The funeral director serves the public interest best when he provides such information openly and freely.

Assurance of Dignity and Quality
The quality of services provided by a funeral director dedicated to public service is not priced according to "ability to pay." His services are priced to fit every pocketbook. The prices quoted (with the exception of cemetery charges, flowers, etc.) include the services of the funeral director and his staff, use of all the facilities of the funeral home, and the casket selected.

Full Responsibility for Arrangements
All members of National Selected Morticians must maintain a complete funeral establishment . . . designed and equipped for funeral service . . . including a selection room from which a family can choose the service it desires. Prices must be plainly marked. A trained staff must be available. A complete establishment is an assurance of reliability and dependability.

Respect for Religious Beliefs and Customs
Only by having full respect for the religious beliefs and customs of those he serves can a funeral director fulfill his obligations to the public. He seeks in every way to work under the direction of the clergy and the bereaved family in making a funeral a meaningful religious rite.

These principles have been adopted by every member of National Selected Morticians and are the guiding creed of his service to the public.

During Post 374 Observance

Legion Head Speaks Here

ROGER A. MUNSON, department commander of Ohio, congratulates John R. Ruhe, oldest charter member, during Saturday night's banquet at American Legion Post 374. Looking on is John Long, post commander.

An appeal to become more involved in civic responsibility was made by Roger A. Munson of Euclid, department commander of Ohio, during a banquet Saturday night at Alfred H. Wedgewood Post 374 marking the 50th anniversary of the American Legion.

More than 150 attended.

After listing Legion accomplishments since its founding in 1919, Munson encouraged members to "roll up your sleeves" and look forward to the next 50 years, "since the future is not completely beyond control."

MUNSON pointed to the distorted image "created by the loud small minority in comparison to the vast majority seldom heard from." The only way to guarantee freedom is through complete obedience to law and order, he declared.

James H. Cregar, past president, past Columbiana County commander and past commander of the 10th District, was master of ceremonies.

Thomas Davidson, second vice commander, led the flag salute. Fr. Robert Sfara of St. Ann's Church gave the invocation and benediction. Vocal selections were presented by Ernest Lowe, accompanied by Mrs. Lowe.

The welcome address was given by Comdr. John Long and the response by Norman Bucher, president of East Liverpool Council. Guests introduced were Robert E. Vodrey, safety - service director, Paul Zehnder of WOHI and Mrs. Clara Hall of The Review.

Legion dignitaries recognized were Charles Summers, 10th District first vice commander; James R. Poynter, second vice commander; Ray Cunningham, county vice commander; Long, county commander; Robert Milne, county adjutant, and Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, 10th District Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Lois Burdick, district secretary. William Bratt represented Wellsville Post 70.

Anniversary pins were presented to members. Charter members present were Edward Landfried, Charles H. Moore and John F. Ruhe. Past commanders introduced were James Wallover, Ruhe, Poynter, Cregar, Landfried, Long and Densel McKinney. Past county commanders were Moore, Poynter and Cregar. Wilbur Harmon was cited as a 49-year member.

Richard G. Brian, speaking on behalf of the March of Dimes, presented a service award plaque to Cregar.

Mrs. Louis Skvarka, Auxiliary president, introduced her officers — Mrs. John Reardon, first vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Yost, second vice president; Mrs. Gilford Burdick, secretary; Mrs. James Baumgard, treasurer; Mrs. Michael Vohar, chaplain; Mrs. Elizabeth Hooper, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. George Hughes and Mrs. Gilmer Smith, color guards, and Mrs. Donald Calhoun, historian.

The dinner was prepared and served by Auxiliary members. A patriotic theme featured the tables, which were covered with blue cloths. Centerpieces were vases of gold colored flowers.

A dance followed, with music by the Country Swingers of Elwood City, Pa.

Annual Event Held By Cubs

Bennett D. Taylor, county Boy Scout executive, was guest speaker at the annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Pack 36 in Calcutta Friday night at the fire hall.

Lou Landfried, training chairman for the district, was toastmaster. He introduced the Rev. Richard L. Shipley, pastor of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church, the sponsoring institution.

Recipients of various awards were James Sosack, Wilbur Krafft, Danny Powell, Gary Jackson, Tom Scott, Robert Turner, Mark Mellington, Jack Lower, Brad Pethtel, John Bertschy, David Dunn, Bill Parsons, Bill Allen, Mike Massey, Phillip Steele and Curt Billingsley. Taylor assisted Lynn R. Cowan, cubmaster, in presenting the awards.

Robert Morgan and Danny Kirkbride received the Arrow of Light award, the highest award a Cub can earn. Cowan presented the award and then the boys were accepted into Troop 36 by James Cunningham, scoutmaster, and two of his scouts, Jeff Cartwright and Jim Cunningham, first-class scouts.

The cubmaster received a surprise birthday cake and a gift from the pack. A plaque was given Taylor by the cubmaster on behalf of the pack. Also recognized were Ted Toothman, assistant cubmaster, and den mothers, Mrs. Toothman, Mrs. W. G. Billingsley and Mrs. Dale Krafft. Group singing was led by Mrs. Toothman and Mrs. Billingsley's dens and a skit was presented by Mrs. Krafft's den.

The next meeting March 28 will feature uniform inspection. A leaders' meeting will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

Deputies Raid Bowling Alley Near Chester

Ordering the first raid of his administration, Hancock County's Sheriff Ralph Patrick sent deputies to Terrace Lanes on Route 30 Saturday night, where the owner was arrested and liquor confiscated.

Four deputies headed by Arnier R. Durham entered the bowling alley about 11.

Armed with search and seizure warrants, the deputies confiscated 48 bottles of liquor and charged operator Arthur Lewis of Route 30, Chester, with possession of liquor on a beer-license premises. Lewis was released on $107 bond for a hearing Wednesday at 11 a.m. before Squire John D. Herron.

Lewis was arrested last November in another raid by state police, was fined and appealed the action to the circuit court. The case is pending.

First Of A Series On Filing Returns

Surtax: Add 7½% To Regular Tax

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — They've read about it and heard about t and finally millions of Americans are meeting the tax surcharge face to face as they fill out their federal income tax returns.

Considering the high drama and political infighting that went into its enactment, the surcharge when tracked to its lair is a shy little thing. Stuck off on a line by itself, it's nothing more than one tax riding piggyback on another.

Thus, most taxpayers wading through the Form 1040 tax return find that they figure their regular tax as in years past and then simply add 7½ per cent.

Taxpayers using 1040's streamlined little brother, 1040A, will find the surcharge figured for them in an accompanying table.

WHY 7½ per cent when all the news stories have labeled it a 10 per cent surcharge? Because it was applicable to only three - quarters of 1968, April through December, and 7½ is three-quarters of 10.

The Internal Revenue Service provides tables with the tax return that tell how much surcharge should be paid when the regular tax is less than $734. If your regular tax is $734 or over you have to do your own arithmetic, but it's a simple one-shot multiplication problem.

Other than the surcharge, the annual chore of getting your tax computed and paid before the April 15 deadline has changed hardly at all.

To be sure, the form most 1040 users received in the mail looks snappier this year because it's red, white and blue, but this is just a cosmetic job that leaves the form itself basically unchanged.

The idea behind the color printing is to highlight those parts of the form where the most errors are made. The signature line is played up, for instance, because millions of Americans sweat over their returns every year and then send them in unsigned.

OTHERS goof by forgetting to attach their W2 forms or don't include their Social Security numbers.

Accompanying the forms sent in the mail are several pages of directions from IRS. These will steer you through most of the tricky places but if you need fuller explanations a good buy is the 160-page IRS booklet "Your Federal Income Tax," 60 cents at most IRS offices.

Also helpful are the commercial do-it-yourself guides sold on the newsstands. They cost more but often are more explicit than the IRS booklet in pointing out money-saving ideas.

Not everybody has to file a tax return, but the exempt are a small minority.

If you were under 65 last year, you must file if you had gross income of $600 or more. If 65 or over, you have to file only if your gross income topped $1,-200. But those with at least $400 net earnings from self-employment must file and pay the self-employment tax.

U.S. citizens living abroad are subject to the same rules, except that their filing deadline is June 15 instead of April 15.

VIETNAM is something else again. Servicemen and civilians in war-support roles — even newsmen — don't have to file until 180 days after they leave Vietnam.

Now to get it all down on paper. There are two forms, 1040 and 1040A, and many taxpayers may use either one.

Form 1040, longer of the two, is designed to be used by anyone, from mechanics to millionaires. But 1040A, the little form that packs all its questions onto a card a little bigger than a cereal boxtop, is only for certain taxpayers.

You may use 1040A if your total income was less than $10,-000 and consisted entirely of wages subject to withholding tax and a maximum of $200 in other wages, dividends and interest.

Those who are eligible to use either form should go for 1040 if by doing so they'll save money.

This, by the way, is the way IRS wants it. The tax people stress that you should avail yourself of every legal means of holding down the amount of tax you pay.

Generally speaking, filling out 1040 instead of 1040A is worth the additional work if you own a home, carry a substantial debt load, have above average child care or medical expenses, or give generously to charities.

SUCH outlays are decuctible. In other words, they can be subtracted in whole or in part from your income as reported for tax purposes, thus lessening the amount of it that will be taxable.

Most taxpayers who spend an hour or two at the dining room table plodding through such homework feel they're well paid for listing their deductions.

Others either find it all too confusing or know they have too few deductions to expect much of a payoff from listing them. If you're in this group, use one or the other of the standard deductions:

A simple 10 per cent of the adjusted gross income figure you've entered on your form, or

The "minimum standard deduction." In the case of married persons filing joint returns or unmarried persons, this is figured as $200 plus $100 for each exemption (count one exemption apiece for yourself and every person you can claim as a dependent, plus one apiece if you're blind or were 65 at least one day last year).

Here again, you get a chance to play something either of two ways. Don't just toss a coin. Do the arithmetic for both and use the one that results in the greater saving.

EXAMPLE: A couple with two children and an adjusted gross income of $8,000 would have an $800 deduction if they take the 10 per cent deduction.

And they'd better, because if they settled for the minimum standard deduction — $200 plus four times $100 — it would come to only $600.

Remember, though, either standard deduction is limited to $1,000 — or $500 if you are married and file a separate return.

Once you've reached this point in filing out your form you've got most of the heavy work behind you. But don't be in too great a hurry to finish and get the thing in the mail.

If time permits, let your completed form sit around the house for a few days and then go over it again line by line. Better your errors should be caught by you than by the ever watchful IRS computer.

And before you seal the envelope, make a spare copy of your return. It will add to your peace of mind to be able to refer back in succeeding months and years to the exact figures you turned in to Uncle Sam.

Glenmoor Playground To Continue At Manse

Despite the sale of the elementary school in 1968, the Glenmoor playground will resume operation this spring at a new site at the rear of the manse of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church on Lisbon St E.xt.

Church officials have authorized the use of the tract to set up the equipment for community use. The equipment was turned over to the church by Ira D. Capehart Jr., operator of the Highland Country Club, who purchased the former school property from the Board of Education. The equipment has been dismantled and stored on the property of Harry Cunningham, who will move it to the church property.

The site will be operated as a supervised playground in cooperation with the East Liverpool Recreation Council, as in the past. The equipment includes a "merry-go-round," basketball hoops, a "jungle gym," a sliding board and other items.

Lisbon Meeting Due

LISBON — Village Council will meet tonight at 7:30 in the town hall with Mayor Clyde B. Pike in charge.

The government for the Confederate States of America was framed in Montgomery, Ala., on Feb. 4, 1861, by delegates from six seceding southern states.

wants to take in his European meetings, he said: "I have come for work, not for ceremony; to inquire, not to insist; to consult, not convince; to listen and learn, and to begin what I hope will be a continuing interchange of ideas and insights."

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was asked if Nixon had discussed with Belgian officials the latest chill in British-French relations, he replied: "I don't have any information on that."

Nixon flies to London tonight for talks with Prime Minister Harold Wilson, and after visits to Bonn, West Berlin and Rome will go to Paris Friday to meet with President Charles de Gaulle.

Ziegler said Nixon, during his 10,500-mile trip is keeping closely abreast of latest reports from South Vietnam, where a new wave of enemy attacks has been launched, apparently to bolster the Communist position at the Paris peace talks.

Nixon, discussing the country-wide rocket and mortar attacks during his flight from Washington that in some circumstances such assaults could result in an American countermove.

White House sources said the President had ordered a careful study of the attacks, one purpose being to determine whether they violated the secret understandings with North Vietnam under which the United States halted the bombing of the North. But these sources emphasized Nixon would move with caution and was "not looking for an excuse to do something." The sources obviously were referring to a resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam.

The President also was getting frequent reports from Washington on the condition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Arriving in Brussels Sunday night under a half moon in 43 degree weather, Nixon was greeted by King Baudouin, a military honor guard, several hundred enthusiastic citizens and a small but noisy group of demonstrators who chanted "Nixon go home" from the terminal roof. Three of the demonstrators were arrested following scuffles with police. The chant was undoubtedly audible to the President, but he kept smiling and paid no attention to the ruckus, which ended as soon as he began to speak to his welcomers.

Ulysses S. Grant had no strong party connections when he was nominated for the presidency. He had voted only once for president and that was for a Democrat, James Buchanan, in 1856.

local unions. It pointed out that returns from the primary must be forwarded to the international canvassing committee within 72 hours.

The union said 159 members in all were nominated for the international offices by local unions, but only 43 accepted ballot places. Forty - eight were nominated as delegates to the 1969 AFL-CIO convention, with 17 accepting. Another 38 were nominated for delegate to the 1971 convention, with 12 accepting.

Two incumbent international officers are unopposed for new terms. They are Walter E. Clawges of Trenton, N. J., first vice president, and Harold Hackett of Kokomo, Ind., fourth vice president.

Four are seeking Null's present post as third vice president. They are Clarence E. Moore and Thurman Shingleton, both of East Liverpool, Robert M. Beatty of Pasadena, Calif., and Jacob F. Schwab of New Orleans.

George Barbaree, incumbent secretary - treasurer, is opposed by James B. Moss and James R. Norris, both of East Liverpool.

Here are the fields for the other offices, with the incumbent listed first in each case:

Second Vice President: Bernard Rowbottom of Redlands, Calif., Richard R. Smith of East Liverpool and Philip DeRobbio of New Castle.

Fifth Vice President: Fred Tanner of New Castle, Sarah Frost and Kenneth Thrasher, both of East Liverpool, Ira E. Jeter of Colton, Calif., and Pinkerton of Sebring.

ANN LANDERS

A Daughter Comes Home

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Father has a 17-year-old illegitmate daughter. My sister and I are both teen-agers and we have known about Olivia for a long time but we've never met her.

Yesterday Dad received a telegram from Olivia saying her mother has kicked her out of the house. She's now living with neighbors but cannot stay there. Olivia wants to come and live with us.

Mom has said okay — on one condition. Olivia must be introduced as a niece, not a daughter. No one outside our immediate family knows the real relationship and my mother says she just couldn't take the gossip.

My sister and I realize Olivia's presence might cause problems but she has had a terrible life and maybe we can help her. We've tried to change Mom's mind but she's adamant. What should be done? — S.A.T.

Dear S.A.T.: Accept your mother's terms, but make it clear that Olivia understands the terms and that she's agreeable. Ordinarily I would not condone duplicity, but this is an extraordinary situation.

Helping the girl should be the principal consideration, and if this is the only way it can be done, then do it. (P.S.: You kids sound like a couple of terrific teen-agers to me. My hat's off to you.)

Shower Time

Dear Ann: My daughters are 13 and 15 years old. They will both be enrolled in a new school next month. The school requires the girls to take gang showers after gym. They both feel this would be very embarrassing and I agree.

Do you think girls should be forced to take showers in the presence of others? — MODEST MOTHER.

Dear Modest: Girls who have a healthy attitude about their bodies pay little attention to each during gang showers. Special circumstances, such as a deformity, or if a girl is too fat or underdeveloped, could alter the situation, however. These girls should be allowed to shower alone.

It goes without saying that all showering should be supervised by a teacher. If a girl shows undue interest in her classmates' nakedness, she should shower separately.

Hard Worker

Dear Ann: I'm a teen-ager who is writing about my grandparents who are not so grand.

Last Sunday Dad left the house at 5:30 in the morning to help Grandma and Grandpa with things they should have hired a plumber and a painter for. Dad came home at 11 p.m. so tired he fell into bed without even taking off his clothes.

Mom was very annoyed. This happens a lot. She says Dad owes his Sundays to his family. Dad says he has to be a good son or he will not be happy. What do you say? — CINCINNATI.

Dear Cin: Your dad is still a little boy who is trying to win the love of his parents by knocking himself out for them. Your mother cannot change him, so I hope she'll lay off even though she is right.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Eisenhower

The five-paragraph statement, steeped in medical terminology and naming members of the surgical team, boiled down to a report that surgeons had cut through scar tissue blocking the passage of food through the intestine.

During the hours-long blackout newsmen never knew whether Eisenhower was on the operating table or not. Maj. George Foster, hospital public information officer, gave the first clue that the former president had survived when he introduced Hughes by saying:

"Gentlemen, Gen. Hughes has some good news for you."

Thus Eisenhower continued an almost incredible string of triumphs over medical adversity that has included seven major heart attacks, a cerebral stroke, gall bladder, an appendectomy and an operation for ileitis.

Hughes refused to answer any question or to elaborate in any way on his early-morning statement, read from the stage of the hospital's Red Cross building which is used as a recreation hall by hundreds of Vietnam war casualties.

Eisenhower's doctors said the decision to go ahead with surgery was made after efforts to alleviate the intestinal obstruction by nonsurgical means, including insertion of a rubber suction tube through Eisenhower's nose down into his intestinal tract.

While Gen. Hughes did not specifically say so, his report indicated that the obstruction occurred in the small intestine—a tube more than 20 feet long arranged in loops inside the abdominal cavity and playing a major role in the body's digestion of foods.

Eisenhower has been in Walter Reed since May 14 and since then has had three heart attacks, the last Aug. 16.

Several months ago Hughes told newsmen at the White House that Eisenhower was making a "miraculous" recovery and subsequent reports from the hospital told of slow but encouraging progress.

For a time last summer Eisenhower was not allowed to watch television, but in recent weeks he apparently has been quite active. He has corresponded, for one thing, with French President Charles de Gaulle and in recent days received from De Gaulle a letter important enough to prompt Eisenhower to telephone President Nixon.

He also has had several visits from Nixon and from former President Johnson.

If he set out on his historic voyage today, Christopher Columbus would have to sail 13 yards farther than he did in 1492, because the continents have drifted apart that much since then.

Dear Ann Landers: Father has a 17-year-old illegitmate daughter. My sister and I are both teen-agers and we have known about Olivia for a long time but we've never met her.

Yesterday Dad received a telegram from Olivia saying her mother has kicked her out of the house. She's now living with neighbors but cannot stay there. Olivia wants to come and live with us.

Mom has said okay — on one condition. Olivia must be introduced as a niece, not a daughter. No one outside our immediate family knows the real relationship and my mother says she just couldn't take the gossip.

My sister and I realize Olivia's presence might cause problems but she has had a terrible life and maybe we can help her. We've tried to change Mom's mind but she's adamant. What should be done? — S.A.T.

Dear S.A.T.: Accept your mother's terms, but make it clear that Olivia understands the terms and that she's agreeable. Ordinarily I would not condone duplicity, but this is an extraordinary situation.

Helping the girl should be the principal consideration, and if this is the only way it can be done, then do it. (P.S.: You kids sound like a couple of terrific teen-agers to me. My hat's off to you.)

Shower Time

Dear Ann: My daughters are 13 and 15 years old. They will both be enrolled in a new school next month. The school requires the girls to take gang showers after gym. They both feel this would be very embarrassing and I agree.

Do you think girls should be forced to take showers in the presence of others? — MODEST MOTHER.

Dear Modest: Girls who have a healthy attitude about their bodies pay little attention to each during gang showers. Special circumstances, such as a deformity, or if a girl is too fat or underdeveloped, could alter the situation, however. These girls should be allowed to shower alone.

It goes without saying that all showering should be supervised by a teacher. If a girl shows undue interest in her classmates' nakedness, she should shower separately.

Hard Worker

Dear Ann: I'm a teen-ager who is writing about my grandparents who are not so grand.

Last Sunday Dad left the house at 5:30 in the morning to help Grandma and Grandpa with things they should have hired a plumber and a painter for. Dad came home at 11 p.m. so tired he fell into bed without even taking off his clothes.

Mom was very annoyed. This happens a lot. She says Dad owes his Sundays to his family. Dad says he has to be a good son or he will not be happy. What do you say? — CINCINNATI.

Dear Cin: Your dad is still a little boy who is trying to win the love of his parents by knocking himself out for them. Your mother cannot change him, so I hope she'll lay off even though she is right.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Eisenhower

resulting from previous surgery."

The five-paragraph statement, steeped in medical terminology and naming members of the surgical team, boiled down to a report that surgeons had cut through scar tissue blocking the passage of food through the intestine.

During the hours-long blackout newsmen never knew whether Eisenhower was on the operating table or not. Maj. George Foster, hospital public information officer, gave the first clue that the former president had survived when he introduced Hughes by saying:

"Gentlemen, Gen. Hughes has some good news for you."

Thus Eisenhower continued an almost incredible string of triumphs over medical adversity that has included seven major heart attacks, a cerebral stroke, gall bladder, an appendectomy and an operation for ileitis.

Hughes refused to answer any question or to elaborate in any way on his early-morning statement, read from the stage of the hospital's Red Cross building which is used as a recreation hall by hundreds of Vietnam war casualties.

Eisenhower's doctors said the decision to go ahead with surgery was made after efforts to alleviate the intestinal obstruction by nonsurgical means, including insertion of a rubber suction tube through Eisenhower's nose down into his intestinal tract.

While Gen. Hughes did not specifically say so, his report indicated that the obstruction occurred in the small intestine—a tube more than 20 feet long arranged in loops inside the abdominal cavity and playing a major role in the body's digestion of foods.

Eisenhower has been in Walter Reed since May 14 and since then has had three heart attacks, the last Aug. 16.

Several months ago Hughes told newsmen at the White House that Eisenhower was making a "miraculous" recovery and subsequent reports from the hospital told of slow but encouraging progress.

For a time last summer Eisenhower was not allowed to watch television, but in recent weeks he apparently has been quite active. He has corresponded, for one thing, with French President Charles de Gaulle and in recent days received from De Gaulle a letter important enough to prompt Eisenhower to telephone President Nixon.

He also has had several visits from Nixon and from former President Johnson.

If he set out on his historic voyage today, Christopher Columbus would have to sail 13 yards farther than he did in 1492, because the continents have drifted apart that much since then.

Unlike His Old Boss, Ike

Maximum Security Slated For Nixon's London Visit

LONDON (AP) — Unlike his old boss Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Nixon is visiting London this week with a minimum of exposure to the public.

Security has always surrounded American Presidents, but the men responsible for the chief executive's safety have become supercareful since the assassination of two Kennedys.

Ike's trip in August 1959 was a ball for both him and the British public. He rode in an open Rolls Royce and people threw flowers into it. A half a million Britons cheered him every time he went out in England and Scotland.

But Eisenhower was an enormously popular hero to the British, an old friend from World War II. Nixon comes strictly as a President, and a freshman at that. He has scheduled no press conferences, no communiques, and no fol-de-rol in Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy.

For Nixon it is a "listening trip."

John F. Kennedy came to London in June 1963 for only 22 hours after a triumphal visit to Ireland. But he, too, managed to throw presidential security to the winds when he motored to a village near Gatwick for Sunday Mass. As he came out of the church he left his security detail and walked into a small crowd of villagers, shaking hands.

"Oh, my God, he's done it again," moaned a Secret Service man.

President Nixon's security arrangements in London, tied in with a packed business schedule, will keep him a considerable distance from potential anti-war, anitbomb and anti-American demonstrators.

Scotland Yard's Special Branch of 300 highly trained security agents, spy catchers and trouble shooters have the help of the U.S. Secret Service and the FBI to make sure of this.

Nixon arrives by air tonight, travels by helicopter to Prime Minister Harold Wilson's country residence, and thenceforth his trips inside London will be in his own bullet-proof bubble top car.

The Special Branch experts fear little from demonstrators. They worry about what they call "the professional hater," the individual without ties to any organization who usually keeps his mouth shut until he shoots the object of his hate.

Some Scotland Yard detectives were on duty during Eisenhower's visit, and they remember the "good old days."

"Nobody hated Ike for any thing," said one. "He really was no worry. The Americans carried submachine guns in golf bags when Ike played golf at Turnberry. But all they needed was pencils, scorecards and extra golf balls for those six extra shots he insisted on taking off the first tee. He called them 'Mulligans' and picked out the one he liked best."

AFL-CIO Warns Nixon, Congress On Budget Cuts

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO said today that the Nixon administration and the Democratic Congress could tempt national disaster if they get into a budget cutting contest to slash federal funds for social programs.

The labor federation's executive council said federal programs for slum clearance, education, housing, job training and welfare were caught in last year's budget "crunch" of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and "already the cry for budget cutting has been heard from within the new administration."

The council of the 13.6-million-member federation said federal social programs face a severe onslaught in the drive to reduce government spending.

"For Congress to enact new programs which hold forth promises of a better life and then to cruelly deny the necessary funds is to tempt a disaster that would shatter far more than the nation's budget stability," the council's statement said.

"The political fact of a Republican administration and a Democratic congress provides an arena of great political temptation, which will require great statesmanship and responsibility to resist," it said.

"Budget cutting for political one-upmanship must not become the sport of Congress and the administration," the council added.

Unlike His Old Boss, Ike

Maximum Security Slated For Nixon's London Visit

LONDON (AP) — Unlike his old boss Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Nixon is visiting London this week with a minimum of exposure to the public.

Security has always surrounded American Presidents, but the men responsible for the chief executive's safety have become supercareful since the assassination of two Kennedys.

Ike's trip in August 1959 was a ball for both him and the British public. He rode in an open Rolls Royce and people threw flowers into it. A half a million Britons cheered him every time he went out in England and Scotland.

But Eisenhower was an enormously popular hero to the British, an old friend from World War II. Nixon comes strictly as a President, and a freshman at that. He has scheduled no press conferences, no communiques, and no fol-de-rol in Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy.

For Nixon it is a "listening trip."

John F. Kennedy came to London in June 1963 for only 22 hours after a triumphal visit to Ireland. But he, too, managed to throw presidential security to the winds when he motored to a village near Gatwick for Sunday Mass. As he came out of the church he left his security detail and walked into a small crowd of villagers, shaking hands.

"Oh, my God, he's done it again," moaned a Secret Service man.

President Nixon's security arrangements in London, tied in with a packed business schedule, will keep him a considerable distance from potential anti-war, anitbomb and anti-American demonstrators.

Scotland Yard's Special Branch of 300 highly trained security agents, spy catchers and trouble shooters have the help of the U.S. Secret Service and the FBI to make sure of this.

Nixon arrives by air tonight, travels by helicopter to Prime Minister Harold Wilson's country residence, and thenceforth his trips inside London will be in his own bullet-proof bubble top car.

The Special Branch experts fear little from demonstrators. They worry about what they call "the professional hater," the individual without ties to any organization who usually keeps his mouth shut until he shoots the object of his hate.

Some Scotland Yard detectives were on duty during Eisenhower's visit, and they remember the "good old days."

"Nobody hated Ike for any thing," said one. "He really was no worry. The Americans carried submachine guns in golf bags when Ike played golf at Turnberry. But all they needed was pencils, scorecards and extra golf balls for those six extra shots he insisted on taking off the first tee. He called them 'Mulligans' and picked out the one he liked best."

AFL-CIO Warns Nixon, Congress On Budget Cuts

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO said today that the Nixon administration and the Democratic Congress could tempt national disaster if they get into a budget cutting contest to slash federal funds for social programs.

The labor federation's executive council said federal programs for slum clearance, education, housing, job training and welfare were caught in last year's budget "crunch" of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and "already the cry for budget cutting has been heard from within the new administration."

The council of the 13.6-million-member federation said federal social programs face a severe onslaught in the drive to reduce government spending.

"For Congress to enact new programs which hold forth promises of a better life and then to cruelly deny the necessary funds is to tempt a disaster that would shatter far more than the nation's budget stability," the council's statement said.

"The political fact of a Republican administration and a Democratic congress provides an arena of great political temptation, which will require great statesmanship and responsibility to resist," it said.

"Budget cutting for political one-upmanship must not become the sport of Congress and the administration," the council added.

Senator Hits Contractors About Steel Oil Drums

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private contractors delivering U.S. military fuel in Southeast Asia have failed to return millions of dollars worth of reuseable steel oil drums as required by government contracts, according to Sen. William Proxmire.

The Wisconsin Democrat, a consistent critic of what he says are wasteful defense contracting procedures, made the charge in a letter to Secretary of the Navy John Chaffee.

Proxmire aides said the senator received information that only about 10 per cent of the costly drums issued over the past five years to private contractors to deliver oil products to U.S. military bases were ever returned.

They said the loss to the United States could run as high as $600,000 a year over the five-year period.

John McGee, a civilian petroleum inspector for the Navy whom Proxmire has credited with "blowing the whistle" on massive thefts of oil products in Thailand, gave the oil drum information to Proxmire. He said in an interview that large quantities of the 18-gauge steel drums—clearly marked with U.S. insignia—have found their ways into private hands.

Chafee, whose department was charged with procuring oil products for all the military services in Southeast Asia, said he has referred Proxmire's allegations to the Defense Department for investigation.

McGee said the drums, which cost about $9 each to make, are used by the private interests who acquire them in Thailand "to manufacture a fantastic variety of items—from metal lawn chairs and other furniture to all sorts of appliances."

The General Accounting Office last month issued a report confirming McGee's report that at least 5.5 million gallons of fuels had been stolen from U.S. supplies in Thailand. It blamed the thefts on bribery, forgery and collusion and said government laxity was, in part, responsible.

Sunday, Proxmire called for an investigation of another charge made originally by McGee: That the government has been cheated of millions of dollars worth of petroleum products through failure to apply standard temperature conversion factors to fuel deliveries made between regions with widely varying temperatures.

Proxmire said he has evidence losses occurred because oil procurement contracts have ignored a simple law of physics —oil expands as it is heated.

He said $1.2 million was lost last year on one contract alone —a procurement agreement with Asiatic Petroleum Co.

Chaffee told Proxmire in a letter earlier this month that there were no overpayments to contractors because "the standard practice of using temperature conversion factors has been followed . . ."

Proxmire wrote Chaffee that he has indications the secretary has been misinformed. The senator gave this explanation in a statement:

"If the U.S. buys 10,000 gallons of jet fuel at a temperature of 60 degrees Farenheit, the laws of physics tell us that we should own about 10,150 gallons at 90 degrees Farenheit.

But in the case of the 1968 Asiatic Petroleum contract, Proxmire said, "the laws of physics apparently were repealed. For every 10,000 gallons the government bought at 60 degrees, the standard in the industry, not a drop over 10,000 gallons was delivered at 90 degrees — the average temperature in Thailand."

Proxmire said no temperature conversion factor was used in this particular contract because a typed-in change "had ingeniously provided that all petroleum product deliveries of under 3,500 gallons were exempted from temperature correction."

He said Asiatic's tank trucks in Thailand hold only 3,170 gallons of petroleum.

Democrats Eye Candidate To Succeed Barr

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Democratic policy committee is set to meet today to select a candidate for endorsement for nomination in the spring primary to succeed Mayor Joseph M. Barr.

Sources close to the committee said a top contender is Orphans Court Judge Harry W. Kramer who previously said he would consider running for mayor.

Barr, after announcing his own decision not to enter the race for the third time, said he doesn't even consider City Councilman Peter F. Flaherty "a worthwhile choice."

Flaherty, who decided to run for the Democratic nomination before Barr's announcement, said he doesn't expect the committee's endorsement. He said he wants voters at the primary to know he is separate from the organization.

The committee, which is scheduled to meet this afternoon, has set a second meeting today with city labor leaders.

Gilbert Teitel, chairman of the Allegheny County Labor Council, said "I don't know that we will take a position. It has not been our practice in past primaries."

The United States does not have an official national flower. Two most often proposed as such are the rose and the marigold.

2 Infant Cousins Die In Pittsburgh Blaze

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two infant cousins were fatally burned and one mother injured in a blaze that destroyed their home.

The fire, which firemen said apparently started in the kitchen, spread to the living room where the children were playing. Killed were Dionne Parker, 2, and Roslyn Wormsley, eight months.

Rene Parker, 20, Dionne's mother, fractured both legs when she leaped from a second story window of the suburban Baldwin duplex. She is in good condition at South Side Hospital.

Firemen said three other of Mrs. Parker's children escaped Sunday's blaze uninjured.

2 Infant Cousins Die In Pittsburgh Blaze

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two infant cousins were fatally burned and one mother injured in a blaze that destroyed their home.

The fire, which firemen said apparently started in the kitchen, spread to the living room where the children were playing. Killed were Dionne Parker, 2, and Roslyn Wormsley, eight months.

Rene Parker, 20, Dionne's mother, fractured both legs when she leaped from a second story window of the suburban Baldwin duplex. She is in good condition at South Side Hospital.

Firemen said three other of Mrs. Parker's children escaped Sunday's blaze uninjured.

France To Meet Tonight With Her Market Allies

PARIS (AP) — France meets her Common Market allies tonight in an attempt to undo the damage done by Britain's disclosure that President Charles de Gaulle wants to scrap the economic community.

Foreign Minister Michel Debre scheduled talks with representatives of Italy, Belgium, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands to give the French version of De Gaulle's proposals to British Ambassador Christopher Soames.

The British version is that De Gaulle wants to replace the Common Market with a loose free trade union led by a four-power political directorate made up of France, Britain, Germany and Italy. This ultimately would lead to dissolution of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization when a true European independence was built up.

France protested Britain's "leaking" of the De Gaulle-Soames talks. Authoritative sources said Debre gave Soames a protest note which the ambassador took to London Sunday after hasty consultations with his government, he returned to Paris Sunday night.

Soames a conservative, was reported furious and considering resigning because of the way Prime Minister Harold Wilson's labor government had handled the affair. Sources in London said Soames had advised Wilson and Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart not to disclose De Gaulle's plans to Britain's allies—including the United States—because France would consider it a breach of confidence.

All this emerged after President Nixon set out on what he had hoped would be a quiet fence-mending swing through five European capitals. Instead he found some of America's closest friends in fierce dispute and the future of the Common Market in doubt.

Informants said Wilson and Stewart were trying to dissuade Soames from quitting because such a move would be political dynamite in Britain and could be widely misinterpreted in Europe. Soames refused to comment on the matter.

British sources here said London's publication of De Gaulle's plan followed a "one-sided" version leaked by the French to a Paris newspaper. And the British government felt its action was vindicated by the reaction in the Common Market countries.

British government officials said Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of West Germany was shocked and upset when Wilson outlined De Gaulle's thinking during Wilson's visit to Bonn on Feb. 12.

Informants said Wilson and Stewart felt De Gaulle was setting a diplomatic trap for Britain by proposing that Wilson, not the French president, should take the initiative publicly by proposing British-French talks on De Gaulle's plan.

The term of Franklin D. Roosevelt exceeded that of any other U.S. president by four years and 39 days.

Space Tripleheader This Week

Apollo 9 Astronauts Set For Last Physical Check

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 9 astronauts today undergo their final major preflight physical exam while launch crews prepare for a space tripleheader starting tonight with a probe toward the planet Mars.

Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart plan several hours with space agency doctors, who want to be certain they are fit. The trio's mission will be to circle the earth for 10 days after their Saturn 5 rocket blasts off at 11 a.m. EST Friday.

The physical exam also provides medical data for in-flight and postflight comparison.

Seeking clues to possible life on Mars, Mariner 6 is to rocket toward that distant planet at 8:14 p.m. tonight. After an interplanetary voyage of nearly five months, it is to sweep within 2,000 miles of the Red Planet, snapping pictures and gathering scientific data.

Sandwiched between Mariner and Apollo will be the launching of the ESSA 9 weather satellite at 2:34 a.m. Wednesday. Whirling through a north-south orbit 900 miles high, the craft's cameras and infrared sensing devices will look at storm systems over the entire globe.

McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart have the complex task of proving the flight readiness of the lunar module (LEM), the spidery four-legged vehicle which is designed to land two men on the moon and get them off safely.

If they succeed, the way will be clear for the Apollo 10 crew to fly a LEM on a lunar orbit mission in May and for Apollo 11 to attempt a moon landing in July.

Mariner 6 will be followed March 24 by a twin, Mariner 7, which will zip by the edge of Mars southern polar cap on Aug. 5. Mariner 6 will pass near Mars above its equator on July 31. They will gather scientific data and snap scores of photographs for 25 minutes each before streaking into orbit around the sun.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the objectives of the double mission "are to study the surface and atmosphere of Mars to establish the basis for future experiments in the search for extraterrestrial life and to develop technology for future Mars missions."

The agency emphasized the probes will not detect life "but will help establish whether or not the Martian environment is suitable for life."

The photographs might provide information on the canal-like streaks that crisscross the planet.

The Mariners will continue studies started in 1965 by the less sophisticated Mariner 4 which flew by Mars at a distance of 6,118 miles. That probe disclosed the planet has densely packed craters much like those on the moon, little or no magnetic field, no radiation belt and a surface atmospheric pressure one one-hundredth of that on earth.

Midland Teacher Receives Award For His Article

Dennis Cambier, business education teacher at Lincoln High School, Midland, has received "The Valley Forge Teachers Medal Award" for "helping to achieve a better understanding of the American way of life."

Cambier's award, in the area of teacher education, was for a magazine article. The article, "A Profit System Promotes Enterprise and Economic Understanding," appeared in the December 1966 issue of The Balance Sheet, a magazine written for teachers of business and economic education.

The article illustrates how the use of a profit system in high school classes can create interest and a better understanding of economic concepts by relating all new areas of knowledge to what the student already has experienced.

The article is one of 15 that Gambier has written during his 16 years as a teacher in Midland. One of his articles, "A Game for Teaching Foreign Trade in the Twelfth Grade," appeared in the publication, Economic Education Experiences of Enterprising Teachers, which was reprinted from the Journal of Business Education December 1966.

Mr. and Mrs. Cambier live in Ohioview and have two sons, Douglas and Patrick. Mrs. Cambier teaches Home Economics at Western Beaver High School.

Loss Estimated At $30,000 In Aliquippa Entry

Jewelry valued at $30,000 and $600 in cash were taken from an Aliquippa jewelry store in a robbery over the weekend.

Police Chief Nino Colonna said the loss was discovered at 3:30 p.m. Sunday by an employe of Temper's Jewelry Store on 370 Franklin Ave.

Colonna said entrance was gained through an attic latch above one of the jewelry counters in the store. There are apartments above the store and the latch is at the end of the hallway leading to these apartments.

The chief added Aliquippa Post Office officials called at 3 a.m. today to report that somebody had tried to break open a safe with a large amount of money in it. He said he believes there is a connection between the two enterigns.

Wellsville Firemen's Search Proves Futile

Wellsville firemen Saturday dragged at the mouth of Little Yellow Creek in the vicinity of the railroad trestle in an effort to locate a man reported to have jumped from the span.

Assistant Chief Robert Lloyd received an anonymous call Friday afternoon about 4:30 saying someone had jumped.

A jacket was found, but no one had been reported missing and firemen could not find who had made the call. Darkness set in before dragging could be started Friday.

Nothing was found during the dragging operation Saturday.

Vietnam

ond round of attacks today was considerably less than the opening onslaught and caused only light casualties and damage. But it was felt the enemy might try to keep up the effort for as much as 10 days.

At the outset, more than 150 towns, bases and outposts came under attack Saturday night and Sunday. It was the heaviest enemy blow since last May.

U.S. headquarters also announced that enemy gunners shot down and destroyed two big U.S. Marine CH47 helicopters supporting Marine infantrymen sweeping near the Laotian frontier Sunday in an operation to cut enemy supply lines. There were no casualties, but the two losses raised to 2,362 the number of American helicopters lost in the war.

The bulk of the fighting occurred north and northwest of Saigon, around the big American bases at Long Binh, Bien Ioa and Dau Tieng.

Long Binh and Bien Hoa are only 15 miles northeast of Saigon, and elements of the North Vietnamese 5th Divisio nare reported trying to push past them.

Sources said allied defenses have been bolstered around Long Binh and Bien Hoa, and to the south of Tay Ninh City, near the Cambodian border, to meet a threat by the North Vietnamese 9th Division.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their intensified strikes around Saigon, dropping more than 1,000 tons of bombs on enemy bases and infiltration corridors. The heaviest of the strikes were concentrated 24 and 25 miles west and northwest of the capital.

Saigon was shelled twice Sunday, for the first time since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam last Nov. 1. Fifteen civilians were killed and 48 were wounded. But the capital was spared any shelling today.

An American official said the rocket attacks on the capital "were a brazen type thing showing he could put some rounds in Saigon.

If he wanted tactically to do something he would put a lot more rounds in, if he could."

Ten rounds of big Russian 100-pound rockets slammed into the capital in two separate volleys Sunday morning and later in the afternoon.

One of the heaviest attacks Sunday occurred when the enemy shelled and then charged into a refugee camp at Que Son, 30 miles southwest of Da Nang. Thirty Civilians were reported killed, 50 wounded and 85 houses destroyed. At least 141 Americans and 78 government soldiers were wounded.

The shelling of the towns Sunday was expected to spur some of President Nixon's advisers in Washington to recommend some kind of retaliation against North Vietnam. But an authoritative source in Saigon indicated the U.S. Command here would not recommend a resumption of bombing of North Vietnam. A member of the President's party in Europe also commented that the administration is "not going to do anything precipitously."

"Militarily, they are not making much progress in this offensive," one source in Saigon said. "To be really significant they would have to do much more than they are doing now. A ground attack on Saigon would be significant."

Military analysts said captured documents and word from prisoners of war and defectors indicate Saigon is the Communist command's ultimate objective. But they doubt the enemy can achieve any kind of a military victory in Saigon and see any assault on the capital as a political move aimed at gaining concessions from the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments at the peace talks.

Officers charged with defending Saigon said the rocket and mortar attacks and light ground assaults could be covering attacks to tie down American and South Vietnamese forces while North Vietnamese troops farther out move into new battle positions.

Analysts said four North Vietnamese divisions believed to have been operating along the Cambodian border either have moved closer to Saigon or are in the process.

The exact number of men being moved was not known.

Schools Hold Spotlight

By JOHN R. THOMAS
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Proposals dealing with different aspects of school reorganization, considered by many a legislative dead horse, are headed toward both houses of the 108th Ohio General Assembly.

The possibility of approval of the measures, which will be sponsored in each house by Stark County Republicans, appear slim — although there is no less an opportunity and reason to pass some sort of reorganization bill this year than there has been in previous sessions.

Committee Reports

Springboard for the reorganization bills in both houses appeared last week when the Legislative Committee to Review the Administration of Education issued a report calling for a reduction in the number of school districts to not more than 125 and establishment of regional service centers.

State Rep. James Thorpe, R-Alliance, one of the 11 members of the committee established under Senate Bill 350 last session, said he will introduce legislation within two weeks that would call for establishment of one school board in each of the state's 88 counties by June 30, 1971.

And, in the Senate, State Sen. Ralph S. Regula, R-Navarre, will introduce a bill within a few weeks that would allow setting up of around 30 regional resource centers.

Regula introduced similar legislation in the last session, but it died in the Senate Education Committee.

Collins Is Foe

Chief nemesis to Regula's proposals again will be Senate Education Committee Chairman Oakley C. Collins, R-Ironton, who, in the words of a northeastern Ohio legislator, "exercises more power than any committee chairman in the Senate."

It was Collins, you will recall, who chaired the 1966-67 Ohio School Survey Commission. Although top man on that Commission, he dissented from that report, and as a member of the committee which reported back its findings last week he refused to sign it.

His objections, Collins said, are about the same as they were in the past — transportation problems are caused by larger school districts, resource centers might cost too much money and people would be losing control of their schools.

A Wide Departure

Regula's proposed bill, however, is as about as far away from school reorganization recommendations contained in last week's report as Lawrence and Cuyahoga counties.

For one, explain Regula and State Sen. Oliver Okasek, D-Northfield, who will be cosponsors for the resource center bill, it is completely permissive, with no requirement that any school district join.

Another selling point, they feel, is that area resource centers would get rid of only the county school board; the local school boards would be left intact, and in the absence of the county school board, they actually would grow stronger.

They would have a greater voice in determining who will teach their children and other decisions now relegated by local boards to the county board in many cases.

Wants 30 Centers

While last week's report calls for establishment of 12 to 15 area resource centers, Regula feels that number would include too much territory and prefers to stick to 30 such centers. Each center would contain a minimum of 35,000 pupils.

Ocasek, considered an eloquent spokesmen for the limited reorganization contained in the resource centers bill, said for the same amount of money that is spent on county administration now — and that varies from $6 to $26 throughout the state — could provide better services than are now available.

Cleveland, for example, spends about $30,000 less for administration for 153,000 pupils than all school districts in a county with 25,000 students.

Would Have Specialists

Among those services which could be provided by area resource centers would be specialists in reading, math, science and other basic subjects; testing, psychological services, transportation coordination, data processing — in other words, those services only a few wealthy districts can afford their students presently.

Regula's and Ocasek's bill, then, conflicts with the one Thrope said he will introduce in the House. There the chances of passage are considered even slimmer.

The governor, who once pushed for the 88 county school districts, has not been the spokesman for that idea lately; the State Department of Education is not known for its political muscle in the legislature, although it's known that the department would like to see fewer than the present 646 school districts, and House Education Committee Chairman Mark C. Schinnerer, R-Lakewood, thinks the proposals should not be considered until around 1975.

If Thrope's bill incorporates all the committee's recommendations, it would call for a maximum of 125 school districts in two years. Thorpe said the 125 figure is not fixed, but just a starting point. The extra school districts are to allow more than one district in a county under special conditions.

125 Maximum

One possible backer of both bills will be the powerful Ohio Education Association, whose executive secretary, Stayner F. Brighton, said both fit within the general teacher-improving philosophy of that group.

He thinks the legislature will come up with a figure this year between 88 school districts and 325 suggested by the Purdy Report in 1966.

In the end, the argument over reorganization may get away from the practicalities of the matter, and evolve into a philisophical split over the worth of Ohio education.

Views Opposed

There are men like Collins, who says: "The Ohio educational system is the best in the United States. Why fool around with it? Our academic courses are good and, with the growth in technical and vocational education, Ohio's boys and girls are going to do all right."

And men like State Rep. Fred B. Hadley, R-Pioneer, who served on the committee: "We must face up to reality. Our financing of schools is wrong, the quality of our schooling is bad in some cases. Why should we wait when we have the opportunity to correct them now? I didn't agree with everything in the report, but I didn't refuse to sign it. We've got to do something now."

Hadley apparently wasn't the only one who signed the report but didn't buy the whole package. Two Senate Democrats reportedly were unsatisfied with the ideas contained in the package, but went along with the recommendations anyway. No dissenting reports were written.

Incidentally, there were no educators on the Legislative Committee to Review the Administration of Education. There were insurance salesmen, stripmine operators and attorneys, but no educators.

Student Loan Aid

The Rhodes administration will attempt to tack an amendment on a Regula-sponsored bill to have the state pick up interest charges in excess of 3 per cent on student loans.

Regula's bill calls for an increase to $1,500 the amount per school year a student may borrow. It also includes language that permits loans to go to vocational and technical education students — not just those enrolled in colege.

Fixes 3 Per Cent

Rhodes asked the legislature, in his State of the State message to expand the state's student loan program to provide loans at no more than 3 per cent interest a year.

The first oil well in the United States was drilled near Titusville, Pa. Drilling of the well was begun in June, 1859.

Group To Speed Projects During March 3 Event

Various projects will be advanced when the STEAK Neighborhood Council meets March 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Central Building on 6th St. in Toronto.

The public is invited to attend.

STEAK is comprised of representatives of Stratton, Toronto, Empire, Alikanna and Knoxville.

Joseph McKeever Jr., president, named a tri-township air pollution committee at last week's meeting. Serving for Knox, Island Creek and Saline townships are Kathleen Sousa, chairman, Murial Thompson and Icie Grimm.

The council is supporting residents of Knox in their efforts to have Knox Twp. Rd. 243 made a through road. It begins off County Rd. 47 and originally was scheduled to intersect with Knox Twp. Rd. 244.

The road, which now ends at a point in Wildcat Hollow, has five creek crossings and for a vehicle to get through it must cross the creek, since there are no bridges. It was pointed out that in case of high water it would be impossible for an emergency vehicle to move through the area.

'Do-It-Yourselfers' Fall Into Many Classifications

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You must size up your own do-it-yourselfer before you lose his services by nagging him.

Do-it-yourselfers fall into many job classifications. If you want to keep one happy, you must analyze his potential.

There is the cabinetry type. He prefers to build a hutch or sawbuck table or kitchen stools, work benches and the like. This avocation may keep him from being completely frustrated in his regular job in which he may not feel the same dedication.

The carpenter do-it-yourselfer finds his life's challenge is being able to hang a door or window or in laying floors. It gives him a grand sense of accomplishment that he can rise to such tasks.

ANOTHER do - it - yourselfer may specialize in artistic decorative effects. He may like to bleach, stain paneling on the wall or install tiles in intricate patterns or build imaginative room dividers.

Do - it - yourselfers in these categories are usually not candidates for repairing plaster walls or putting putty around windows, no matter how women weep or gnash their teeth.

Part-time house workers become discouraged unless their work shows something for their efforts. How can you take pride in repairing a crack in the wall or in the ceiling when it is covered with paint, is the way they assess the situation.

Amateurs who do such repairs usually are driven to it in emergencies — the roof leaks over the bed or the lamp cord becomes frayed, and then threatened by flood or fire, he looks for the tool box.

But, meanwhile, what do you do when winter is busting out all over the house? There are drafts from doors that aren't tight, water problems in the cellar, and so on.

ONE WOMAN points out: "My husband has remodeled about every square inch of our house, but when it comes to doweatherstripping around doors or putting a new pane of glass in the basement window instead of the board that was quickly inserted, he ignores the chores."

The sensible way to get a lot of small jobs done around the house is to hire a carpenter, plumber or whatever. If the budget is limited, hire him for the amount of time you can afford, a few hours, half or whole day.

If you can't afford it, begin to save for the time when you can avail yourself of professional services. Even if you must scrimp, it will be worth the joy in your heart when you hear the steady click, click of the hammer.

If you can't afford to do everything, list the important jobs. If the tasks can be time-evaluated, the hired man may suggest that he can do everything for about so much.

A CARPENTER may accept payment on a deferred plan, providing he can do the work when he has a day off. That way, he can keep busy, even though he must wait for his pay. You should level with the workman you call, if your problem is money.

In listing projects, you may find that you can get more accomplished than you realize. If you are basing time estimates on what the home handyman accomplishes, remember that he is more likely to pamper projects than the professional worker. He can't stick constantly to a job, and tasks may seem interminable.

You should tell the carpenter or plumber what needs to be done when you call him about the job. They can bring proper tools and materials and you will not be time-charged for trips to supply stores.

The workman will quote so much an hour or a day, but you must be prepared t pay for his materials. Dressed lumber is expensive, so if you decide to do an extensive project — a closet or pantry — lumber costs must be taken into consideration.

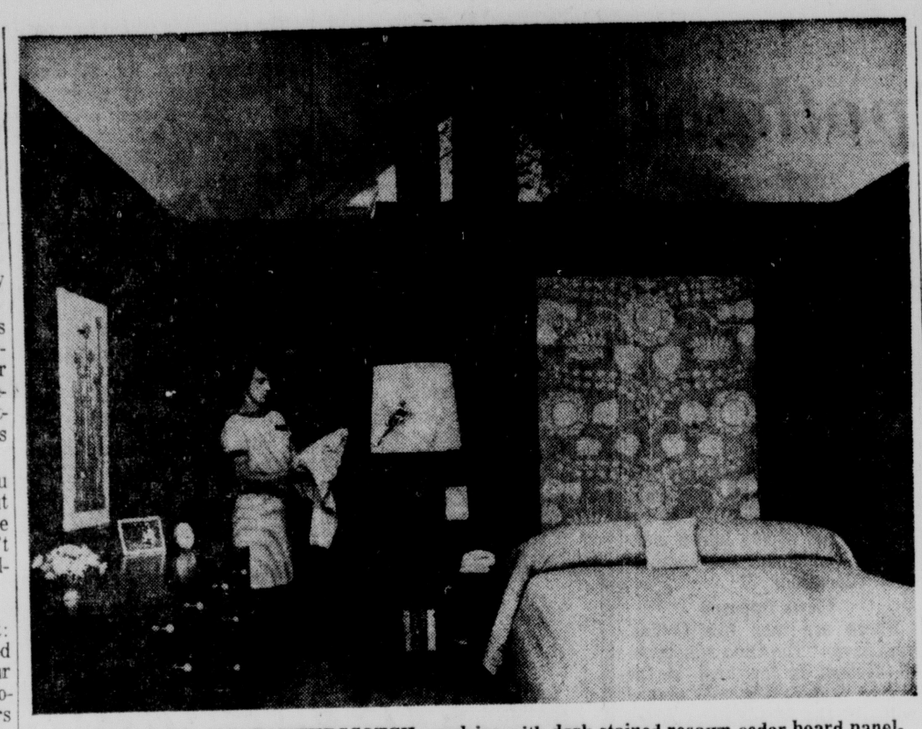
BUT FOR smaller tasks that may fall to the hired carpenter, you may not need extensive materials. He can come armed with the weatherstripping or whatever, providing you alert him.

If he is going to do a job in matching lumber, such as filling an opening left by an old heating register, it is a good idea beforehand to measure the width of the flooring and tell him exactly what it is.

If you are matching white oak flooring and it is to be stained light, you will need white oak, but if you are painting the floors, you can use the less expensive red oak just as well.

Russia once established a post on the coast of California. In 1812, a group of Russian fur traders established Fort Ross, less than 100 miles north of San Francisco, but they sold their land in 1841 and left the country.



HOT ORANGE AND BUTTERSCOTCH combine with dark-stained resawn cedar board paneling in this master bedroom. Fabric wrapped, stapled over padded plywood and framed with cedar 1-by-6s makes an exciting headboard. Big walk-in closet lies behind headboard.

Beaver County Crash Damages Stolen Auto

An auto stolen in East Liverpool was wrecked in a traffic mishap early Sunday on Route 251 near Route 168 in Beaver County, East Liverpool police were advised.

The 1967 two-door sedan owned by David Chaffin of 1034 Waterloo St. was reported stolen after 8 p.m. Saturday from the 1000 block of St. Clair Ave. Local officers were advised at 2:50 a.m. Sunday that the car had been found wrecked by Pennsylvania state police of the Chippewa Barracks.

The auto was towed to a garage at Darlington, police said. Chaffin was unaware his car had been stolen until police contacted him to report it had been found wrecked.

Afraid Of Upholstering? Here's Project To Help

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Fearful of tackling an upholstering job around the house? You needn't be.

It's not as difficult as it seems. But words alone won't give you the confidence necessary to tackle this type of project, long a bugaboo of most do-it-yourselfers.

There's one way you can gain that confidence — by upholstering a straight kitchen chair, which usually is just a fabric-covered plywood seat fastened to a frame. You'll find it easier than you thought, even if you are not normally the kind of person who fixes things.

And it won't be long before you'll be looking for other upholstering tasks.

THE SEAT of such a chair can be quickly removed by taking out the screws on the underside. Strip off the fabric and whatever padding there is.

Measure the dimensions of the seat, then go to a department store, specialty dealer, upholstery supplier or any other place that sells foam rubber. Purchase a piece of foam rubber of the proper size or one a little larger. If necessary, you can cut it to size at home with a pair of stout kitchen shears.

The foam rubber can be almost any thickness from half-an-inch to an inch-and-a-half, depending on how much padding you think is comfortable.

When making the purchase, also buy some rubber fabricating cement and muslin tacking tape. You won't have to buy the cement if you have any rubber adhesive of the kind found in most offices.

Bore a few holes in the plywood seat if they aren't already there. These will allow the foam to breathe. The tacking tape should be cemented all around the edges of the foam and allowed to dry for an hour or so.

The overhang is then stapled or tacked to the underseat of the chair seat, which will secure the foam in place.

YOUR FABRIC should be ironed before putting it in place. Cover the foam with the fabric, stapling or tacking it in place so that it fits tautly. Screw the seat back onto the frame and the chair will have a new appearance, especially if you have touched up any nicks or scratches on the frame.

Nearly any type of fabric can be used to cover the foam rubber, but there are a few materials which should be used only when muslin is placed between them.

One of these is leather, which has a tendency to abrade when continually rubbed against foam. Another is velour, which sometimes will work loose when continually rubbed against the rubber. If a plastic material is selected, get the kind that has a fabric backing and is washable.

'Do-It-Yourselfers' Fall Into Many Classifications

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You must size up your own do-it-yourselfer before you lose his services by nagging him.

Do-it-yourselfers fall into many job classifications. If you want to keep one happy, you must analyze his potential.

There is the cabinetry type. He prefers to build a hutch or sawbuck table or kitchen stools, work benches and the like. This avocation may keep him from being completely frustrated in his regular job in which he may not feel the same dedication.

The carpenter do-it-yourselfer finds his life's challenge is being able to hang a door or window or in laying floors. It gives him a grand sense of accomplishment that he can rise to such tasks.

ANOTHER do - it - yourselfer may specialize in artistic decorative effects. He may like to bleach, stain paneling on the wall or install tiles in intricate patterns or build imaginative room dividers.

Do - it - yourselfers in these categories are usually not candidates for repairing plaster walls or putting putty around windows, no matter how women weep or gnash their teeth.

Part-time house workers become discouraged unless their work shows something for their efforts. How can you take pride in repairing a crack in the wall or in the ceiling when it is covered with paint, is the way they assess the situation.

Amateurs who do such repairs usually are driven to it in emergencies — the roof leaks over the bed or the lamp cord becomes frayed, and then threatened by flood or fire, he looks for the tool box.

But, meanwhile, what do you do when winter is busting out all over the house? There are drafts from doors that aren't tight, water problems in the cellar, and so on.

ONE WOMAN points out: "My husband has remodeled about every square inch of our house, but when it comes to doweatherstripping around doors or putting a new pane of glass in the basement window instead of the board that was quickly inserted, he ignores the chores."

The sensible way to get a lot of small jobs done around the house is to hire a carpenter, plumber or whatever. If the budget is limited, hire him for the amount of time you can afford, a few hours, half or whole day.

If you can't afford it, begin to save for the time when you can avail yourself of professional services. Even if you must scrimp, it will be worth the joy in your heart when you hear the steady click, click of the hammer.

If you can't afford to do everything, list the important jobs. If the tasks can be time-evaluated, the hired man may suggest that he can do everything for about so much.

A CARPENTER may accept payment on a deferred plan, providing he can do the work when he has a day off. That way, he can keep busy, even though he must wait for his pay. You should level with the workman you call, if your problem is money.

In listing projects, you may find that you can get more accomplished than you realize. If you are basing time estimates on what the home handyman accomplishes, remember that he is more likely to pamper projects than the professional worker. He can't stick constantly to a job, and tasks may seem interminable.

You should tell the carpenter or plumber what needs to be done when you call him about the job. They can bring proper tools and materials and you will not be time-charged for trips to supply stores.

The workman will quote so much an hour or a day, but you must be prepared t pay for his materials. Dressed lumber is expensive, so if you decide to do an extensive project — a closet or pantry — lumber costs must be taken into consideration.

BUT FOR smaller tasks that may fall to the hired carpenter, you may not need extensive materials. He can come armed with the weatherstripping or whatever, providing you alert him.

If he is going to do a job in matching lumber, such as filling an opening left by an old heating register, it is a good idea beforehand to measure the width of the flooring and tell him exactly what it is.

If you are matching white oak flooring and it is to be stained light, you will need white oak, but if you are painting the floors, you can use the less expensive red oak just as well.

Russia once established a post on the coast of California. In 1812, a group of Russian fur traders established Fort Ross, less than 100 miles north of San Francisco, but they sold their land in 1841 and left the country.

HOT ORANGE AND BUTTERSCOTCH combine with dark-stained resawn cedar board paneling in this master bedroom. Fabric wrapped, stapled over padded plywood and framed with cedar 1-by-6s makes an exciting headboard. Big walk-in closet lies behind headboard.

Afraid Of Upholstering? Here's Project To Help

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Fearful of tackling an upholstering job around the house? You needn't be.

It's not as difficult as it seems. But words alone won't give you the confidence necessary to tackle this type of project, long a bugaboo of most do-it-yourselfers.

There's one way you can gain that confidence — by upholstering a straight kitchen chair, which usually is just a fabric-covered plywood seat fastened to a frame. You'll find it easier than you thought, even if you are not normally the kind of person who fixes things.

And it won't be long before you'll be looking for other upholstering tasks.

THE SEAT of such a chair can be quickly removed by taking out the screws on the underside. Strip off the fabric and whatever padding there is.

Measure the dimensions of the seat, then go to a department store, specialty dealer, upholstery supplier or any other place that sells foam rubber. Purchase a piece of foam rubber of the proper size or one a little larger. If necessary, you can cut it to size at home with a pair of stout kitchen shears.

The foam rubber can be almost any thickness from half-an-inch to an inch-and-a-half, depending on how much padding you think is comfortable.

When making the purchase, also buy some rubber fabricating cement and muslin tacking tape. You won't have to buy the cement if you have any rubber adhesive of the kind found in most offices.

Bore a few holes in the plywood seat if they aren't already there. These will allow the foam to breathe. The tacking tape should be cemented all around the edges of the foam and allowed to dry for an hour or so.

The overhang is then stapled or tacked to the underseat of the chair seat, which will secure the foam in place.

YOUR FABRIC should be ironed before putting it in place. Cover the foam with the fabric, stapling or tacking it in place so that it fits tautly. Screw the seat back onto the frame and the chair will have a new appearance, especially if you have touched up any nicks or scratches on the frame.

Nearly any type of fabric can be used to cover the foam rubber, but there are a few materials which should be used only when muslin is placed between them.

One of these is leather, which has a tendency to abrade when continually rubbed against foam. Another is velour, which sometimes will work loose when continually rubbed against the rubber. If a plastic material is selected, get the kind that has a fabric backing and is washable.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Paprika, Cook's Helper

DEAR HELOISE: I'm convinced that paprika is as necessary to housekeeping as your vinegar and nylon net.

Heloise

You can dust any light-colored meat with paprika and it will brown beautifully, whether you bake, broil or fry it.

And I can't imagine cooking fish without it.

It is also beautiful on macaroni and scalloped potatoes.

If you have any dish ready for the table and it looks kind of "blah", garnish it with paprika . . . you can even use it on fruits and vegetables.

Perhaps you have heard the old saying, "Paprika keeps up the spirits." I think it actually contains something that fights depression, but maybe it just makes food look "happier."

A CONSTANT READER.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for mothers with very small children:

For very inexpensive, colorful and quite durable toys, just visit the pet department of your favorite store.

You'll discover all the practical little gadgets they have there, and for just PENNIES! And since they are so small, tiny tots love them.

My son has had a small plastic ferris wheel made for birds, for over a year now, and it's just like new.

They apparently make them stronger for the pets, and with the treatment ours gets, I'm really amazed.

You'll also find toys that can be attached to tables and cribs. Really, Heloise, there is such a nice variety to choose from.

MRS. JEAN GREGG.

DEAR HELOISE: Heaven help us shoe salesmen when we recognize "that look" on the customer's face.

All shoe salesmen know what I mean about "that look."

It means, she has been shopping all day, her feet hurt, she wants to sit down, take off her shoes, open up a pack of cigarettes and relax.

So, after trying on every shoe in the store and finishing her cigarette, the customer gathers up her handbag and parcels, smiles sweetly and says: "Thank you, I don't believe I'll decide on a pair of shoes today."

W-O-M-E-N! But what would we do without them?

SHOE SALESMAN.

It sure beats trying to get them off any other way.

SUSI HOWTON

This column is written for you...the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

DEAR HELOISE: Take an envelope of powdered diet food (the kind that provides a balanced meal) and mix with skim or non-fat dry milk.

Then soften one-third to one-half envelope of unflavored gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water.

Dissolve this over heat. After it's dissolved, add to the diet drink and mix well.

Let this chill until it starts to thicken.

I put mine in the refrigerator freezer for four or five minutes.

Next, beat on high speed of your mixer for a minute or two or for a shorter time if you use a blender. Presto! You have the thickest, richest, yummiest, milkshake you ever dreamed possible.

This fills a tall, iced tea glass, and for approximately two hundred and fifty calories or less.

A FAT FAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever accidentally washed a paper tissue in with your load of cottons?

Well, I have, and I discovered that if I put something in my dryer that will pick up static electricity, my problem is solved.

Whether it's a wool sock or something nylon, it will catch all the tiny pieces of tissue.

The easy way to remember when Alaska and Hawaii became states.

The easy way to remember when Hawaii and Alaska became states.

Just remember that Ohio Bell local telephone rates haven't gone up since the year Hawaii and Alaska became states.

Or easier yet, just remember 1959. Ten long years ago.

Since 1959, local telephone rates have remained the same, and long distance rates have gone down several times.

And while Ohio Bell has kept the price of telephone service down, practically everything else you buy keeps going up.

Pushing against the trend hasn't been easy. But the latest equipment, good business methods, and just plain penny watching have enabled us to keep on pushing.

Ohio Bell might not make the history books, but keeping the price down for so long kind of makes us a legend in our own time.

Unfair Campaign Tactics Declined In 1968 Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nonpartisan committee that watches over political campaign tactics says there was a major decline in appeals to racial and religious prejudice during the 1968 presidential and congressional elections.

In a report released today, the Fair Campaign Practices Committee said only 6 per cent of the unfair campaign complaints involved appeals to racial prejudice, and only 3 per cent concerned religion.

The committee, a nonpartisan, private organization headed by Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, Ohio, noted that racial and religious prejudice were the "two political pitches" which caused the most complaints in previous campaign years.

"Most of the complaints filed with the committee during the 1968 campaign period were based on misrepresentation, distortion or falsification of campaign material," the report said. And most of these came in the closing days before the election.

"The Fair Campaign Practices Committee staff study showed that political smear merchants still wait until the closing days of the campaign to play dirty politics," the report continued.

The FCPC staff concluded that dirty politics really doesn't pay off. It said 81 per cent of those who filed what the committee considered valid complaints won their election contests, while 87 per cent who filed invalid complaints lost at the polls.

"Some candidates filed invalid complaints against their opponents, publicizing their complaints and, in effect smearing their opponents by crying smear," the committee complained.

The report gave no specific examples nor did it furnish a breakdown on complaints as between the presidential race or House or Senate contests.

The committee said it was pleased arbitration had worked well in two Senate and five House contests it did not identify.

It said that in four house races where hearings were held to arbitrate campaign charges, "the candidate who lost the arbitration award or who refused to arbitrate also lost the election."

Three Treated At Hospital Here In 2-Car Wreck

Three Canton residents were treated at City Hospital Saturday as the result of a two-car accident on Route 30, a half-mile west of Route 7.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said George G. Sprit Jr., 44, of Canton slowed his 1964 coach for traffic ahead and his car was struck in the rear by a 1963 sedan operated by Joseph L. Reto, 50, of Austintown.

Mrs. Mary Colucy, 48, of Canton, a passenger in the Sprit auto, was treated for contusions of the chest. Her son, Raymond J. Colucy, was treated for contusions of the chest and right leg and William Sprit, son of the driver, was treated for contusions of the back. All were released. The accident occurred at 12:40 p.m.

In an accident on Route 45, about a mile north of Wellsville at 3:30 a.m. Sunday, Robert W. Delposen, 29, of 1206 Commerce St., Wellsville, lost control of his southbound 1968 coupe and it ran off the right side of the road, striking several mailboxes.

Delposen was not injured.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

Liz Awaits Stork And New Husband

Star of ABC's 'Bewitched'

Television has gone to extraordinary lengths at times in replacing one actor with another in a series.

Cecil Smith

Danny Thomas killed off his first wife and mourned her through half a season before winning and wooing his second. Remember the spectacular departure of John McIntire from "Naked City"? He was literally blown off the series in a huge fiery explosion.

"I think that's nonsense," said Elizabeth Montgomery. "The audiences are much too sophisticated for that. They know an actor is leaving a part and another actor has been engaged to play it. Anyway, they see the actor that leaves turn up on other shows and even other series."

McINTIRE is a case in point. After he was blown off "Naked City," he re-emerged as the wagon master on "Wagon Train" and now is starring in "The Virginian."

Consequently, when Liz as the nose-twitching Samantha of "Bewitched" turns up next fall with Dick Sargent as her long-suffering husband Darren instead of Dick York, nothing will be made of it.

York left the series recently after five years of marriage to the willowy witch. Producer-director Bill Asher, Liz' offscreen husband, said there were no hard feelings.

"After five years in a part, an actor wants to move on to something else — and I don't blame him," said Bill.

WHAT ABOUT Liz?

"It's different with us," she said. "It's a family thing. Bill and I get up together, we go to work together, we go home together. We get three months off to spend with the kids — and play. It's a way of life."

The family thing has Liz hard at work these days when most TV series are buttoned up for the year. She expects her third child in June, and Bill would like to get four of the fall shows made before she heads for the hospital.

They were working outside on a street in the big, drab Columbia-Screen Gems complex. Black, fat-bellied clouds wreathed the sky and the crew worked hurriedly, trying to beat the rain. Liz swung into a wild Charleston on the pavement.

"IN YOUR condition!" chided a stagehand.

"I'm already a mudder," said Liz. "I've got to get warm."

"All right, Sam, let's do it," Bill said. The scene was made quickly and the crew, glancing at the menacing sky, hurried for another setup.

"I'm so cold I'm turning blue," said Liz. "People will think their color sets are on the blink."

She looks grand, Robert Montgomery's handsome blonde daughter. She says she feels fine — "I'm throwing up nicely."

BABIES and "Bewitched" have gone together since the series began. Liz' first child, young Willie, was born just a few weeks before the show went on the air, causing great trauma in the executive suites of both ABC and Screen Gems where moguls walked the floor, wondering if their star would be ready to make the show.

Robert arrived with a great deal of fanfare in the midst of the second season, his birth coinciding with that of Tabatha, the baby witch.

Liz is perfectly willing to work through much of her pregnancy, "except I get so sleepy." Having her husband in charge of the show helps — Bill is very conscious of her condition, careful that she doesn't overdo.

UNLIKE many stars, Liz has no great compulsion to work. She's constantly turning down offers to guest on variety and talk shows. If there were no "Bewitched," Bill feels she'd settle happily into domesticity with occasional forays to the track. She's inordinately lucky betting on the bangtails.

"I sometimes think," said Bill, "there's something to this witchcraft. I catch her once in awhile wiggling her nose at a horse."

Saxbe Nominees Face Airing By Attorney General

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The dissatisfaction of Ohio Republican congressmen over U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe's appointments for federal attorney positions in Ohio has been taken to the U.S. Attorney General.

Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Columbus has urged Atty. Gen. John Mitchell to interview both candidates — his and Saxbe's—for the southern Ohio U.S. Attorney post before making a recommendation to President Nixon.

Devine favors Columbus attorney William Lohr for the job. Lohr worked for the Congressman when Devine was Franklin County prosecutor.

Saxbe has recommended Robert J. Boyd Jr., also a Columbus attorney, who is a former law partner of Saxbe's and was first assistant Ohio attorney general under Saxbe.

Devine said he wanted to make it clear that there is no open split in the Ohio Republican ranks in Washington, but he felt that congressmen's views should be considered in patronage appointments.

Saxbe's nomination of Robert Krupansky as federal attorney in northern Ohio has met with considerable displeasure from Republican representatives in the area because Krupansky is in a law firm with Howard Metzenbaum, a prominent Cleveland Democratic party leader.

World Diamond Supply

Since the discovery of diamonds in South Africa in 1866, that area has ranked first among the world's gem diamond producers. Today, the second largest production area is the U.S.S.R. followed by South West Africa and Angola. According to one recent report, the total diamond production for 1967 was 43,368,000 carats as compared to 28,130,000 carats in 1960 and 14,140,000 carats in 1940. Part of the reason for this larger production is the ever-increasing demand for both gem and industrial rough diamonds.

Now, however, concerned mineralogists are asking "how long will the supply last?" Industry is requiring more industrial diamonds than ever before, and our rising population with its greater affluency is also demanding gem quality diamonds both for adornment and investment. This is the major reason why we jewelers have found diamond prices on the rise. Today, fine diamonds are truly at a premium and command premium prices.

Often I am asked about synthetic diamonds. There are several firms in the United States pushing ahead on this, but so far only industrial quality synthetic diamonds are being produced. These resemble greyish bits of sand, and are certainly not suitable for jewelry. Other synthetic gems that are advertised and said to resemble diamonds are most often synthetic rutile, spinel or strontium itanate. In no way do they duplicate the hardness, durability or beauty of the genuine diamond and therefore are not properly called "synthetic diamond".

Three Treated At Hospital Here In 2-Car Wreck

Three Canton residents were treated at City Hospital Saturday as the result of a two-car accident on Route 30, a half-mile west of Route 7.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said George G. Sprit Jr., 44, of Canton slowed his 1964 coach for traffic ahead and his car was struck in the rear by a 1963 sedan operated by Joseph L. Reto, 50, of Austintown.

Mrs. Mary Colucy, 48, of Canton, a passenger in the Sprit auto, was treated for contusions of the chest. Her son, Raymond J. Colucy, was treated for contusions of the chest and right leg and William Sprit, son of the driver, was treated for contusions of the back. All were released. The accident occurred at 12:40 p.m.

In an accident on Route 45, about a mile north of Wellsville at 3:30 a.m. Sunday, Robert W. Delposen, 29, of 1206 Commerce St., Wellsville, lost control of his southbound 1968 coupe and it ran off the right side of the road, striking several mailboxes.

Delposen was not injured.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

Star of ABC's 'Bewitched'

Cecil Smith

Danny Thomas killed off his first wife and mourned her through half a season before winning and wooing his second. Remember the spectacular departure of John McIntire from "Naked City"? He was literally blown off the series in a huge fiery explosion.

"I think that's nonsense," said Elizabeth Montgomery. "The audiences are much too sophisticated for that. They know an actor is leaving a part and another actor has been engaged to play it. Anyway, they see the actor that leaves turn up on other shows and even other series."

McINTIRE is a case in point. After he was blown off "Naked City," he re-emerged as the wagon master on "Wagon Train" and now is starring in "The Virginian."

Consequently, when Liz as the nose-twitching Samantha of "Bewitched" turns up next fall with Dick Sargent as her long-suffering husband Darren instead of Dick York, nothing will be made of it.

York left the series recently after five years of marriage to the willowy witch. Producer-director Bill Asher, Liz' offscreen husband, said there were no hard feelings.

"After five years in a part, an actor wants to move on to something else — and I don't blame him," said Bill.

WHAT ABOUT Liz?

"It's different with us," she said. "It's a family thing. Bill and I get up together, we go to work together, we go home together. We get three months off to spend with the kids — and play. It's a way of life."

The family thing has Liz hard at work these days when most TV series are buttoned up for the year. She expects her third child in June, and Bill would like to get four of the fall shows made before she heads for the hospital.

They were working outside on a street in the big, drab Columbia-Screen Gems complex. Black, fat-bellied clouds wreathed the sky and the crew worked hurriedly, trying to beat the rain. Liz swung into a wild Charleston on the pavement.

"IN YOUR condition!" chided a stagehand.

"I'm already a mudder," said Liz. "I've got to get warm."

"All right, Sam, let's do it," Bill said. The scene was made quickly and the crew, glancing at the menacing sky, hurried for another setup.

"I'm so cold I'm turning blue," said Liz. "People will think their color sets are on the blink."

She looks grand, Robert Montgomery's handsome blonde daughter. She says she feels fine — "I'm throwing up nicely."

BABIES and "Bewitched" have gone together since the series began. Liz' first child, young Willie, was born just a few weeks before the show went on the air, causing great trauma in the executive suites of both ABC and Screen Gems where moguls walked the floor, wondering if their star would be ready to make the show.

Robert arrived with a great deal of fanfare in the midst of the second season, his birth coinciding with that of Tabatha, the baby witch.

Liz is perfectly willing to work through much of her pregnancy, "except I get so sleepy." Having her husband in charge of the show helps — Bill is very conscious of her condition, careful that she doesn't overdo.

UNLIKE many stars, Liz has no great compulsion to work. She's constantly turning down offers to guest on variety and talk shows. If there were no "Bewitched," Bill feels she'd settle happily into domesticity with occasional forays to the track. She's inordinately lucky betting on the bangtails.

"I sometimes think," said Bill, "there's something to this witchcraft. I catch her once in awhile wiggling her nose at a horse."

Saxbe Nominees Face Airing By Attorney General

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The dissatisfaction of Ohio Republican congressmen over U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe's appointments for federal attorney positions in Ohio has been taken to the U.S. Attorney General.

Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Columbus has urged Atty. Gen. John Mitchell to interview both candidates — his and Saxbe's—for the southern Ohio U.S. Attorney post before making a recommendation to President Nixon.

Devine favors Columbus attorney William Lohr for the job. Lohr worked for the Congressman when Devine was Franklin County prosecutor.

Saxbe has recommended Robert J. Boyd Jr., also a Columbus attorney, who is a former law partner of Saxbe's and was first assistant Ohio attorney general under Saxbe.

Devine said he wanted to make it clear that there is no open split in the Ohio Republican ranks in Washington, but he felt that congressmen's views should be considered in patronage appointments.

Saxbe's nomination of Robert Krupansky as federal attorney in northern Ohio has met with considerable displeasure from Republican representatives in the area because Krupansky is in a law firm with Howard Metzenbaum, a prominent Cleveland Democratic party leader.

World Diamond Supply

Since the discovery of diamonds in South Africa in 1866, that area has ranked first among the world's gem diamond producers. Today, the second largest production area is the U.S.S.R. followed by South West Africa and Angola. According to one recent report, the total diamond production for 1967 was 43,368,000 carats as compared to 28,130,000 carats in 1960 and 14,140,000 carats in 1940. Part of the reason for this larger production is the ever-increasing demand for both gem and industrial rough diamonds.

Now, however, concerned mineralogists are asking "how long will the supply last?" Industry is requiring more industrial diamonds than ever before, and our rising population with its greater affluency is also demanding gem quality diamonds both for adornment and investment. This is the major reason why we jewelers have found diamond prices on the rise. Today, fine diamonds are truly at a premium and command premium prices.

Often I am asked about synthetic diamonds. There are several firms in the United States pushing ahead on this, but so far only industrial quality synthetic diamonds are being produced. These resemble greyish bits of sand, and are certainly not suitable for jewelry. Other synthetic gems that are advertised and said to resemble diamonds are most often synthetic rutile, spinel or strontium itanate. In no way do they duplicate the hardness, durability or beauty of the genuine diamond and therefore are not properly called "synthetic diamond".

A handy husband around the house is worth money to a wife. An insurance company study found that the average husband spends about 24 hours a week performing home chores and thereby saves his wife $51.50 it would cost her to hire someone else to do the work.

Do you chronically munch on ice? Well, if you eat as much as a tray of ice daily, it may indicate you are suffering from an odd ailment called pagophagia. Its victims suffer from an iron deficiency and if given small quantities of that nutrient they lose their abnormal appetite for ice.

Having trouble with your hearing? That might be because too much waxy cholesterol is clogging the blood vessels between your hearing bones, and it could be a warning of an impending heart attack or stroke. Researchers at Purdue University found the hearing of a number of staff workers improved after a regular program of exercises reduced the quanity of cholesterol in their blood.

Courts Approval Also Due

Quick OK Seen On Bill To Outlaw School Riots

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate leaders predicted quick passage this week of bills to outlaw disorderly conduct at schools and colleges and implement the community courts provision of the constitution.

As the Senate and House reconvened, the chairman of the important House Appropriations Committee predicted flatly the legislature won't pass a state income tax bill this year.

The Senate is returning after a two-week recess while the House met three days last week. A number of committee meetings also are scheduled during the week.

SEN. Clarence Bell, R-Delaware, said he expects the Senate to pass today the community courts bill which authorizes to abolish justices of the peace or magesterial systems and replace them with community courts.

Sen. Robert Fleming, R-Allegheny, the President Pro Tem, said he expects passage by Wednesday of the anti-disorder bill, which was to come out of the Judiciary Committee today.

At the same time, Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia, chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee said he sees no chance of the General Assembly approving Gov. Shafer's income tax proposal.

"There are absolutely no votes for it," Mullen said. "The income tax is as dead as a doornail."

MULLEN was the first lawmaker in either house to predic. flatly that the proposed levy has no chance of becoming law, although leaders of both parties have said repeatedly they detect little sentiment for it.

"How could you have an income tax when the Republican administration can't get a member of its own party to sponsor the bill?" Mullen asked.

There also was some indication that the community courts bill will face tough sledding in the Democratic-controlled House even if it glides through the Republican-dominated Senate this week.

House Democrats expressed concern privately over reports that the Shafer administration wanted the bill amended to provide that the governor would appoint interim judges to community courts until such a time as they could be elected in a general election after first winning their party's nomination in a primary.

As it now stands, the candidates would be chosen by political leaders to run in the general election this fall because many probably community court district approvals can't have been decided until the May primary.

BELL said that although "this method of handpicking candidates is unfortunate," he preferred it to letting the governor make interim appointments.

"I'll oppose on the Senate floor any attempt to amend the selection provision of the bill," Bell remarked. "I have heard no objections from any source as to the bill's contents. And unless there are defects, I see no reason why the measure can't move today."

Fleming's anti - disorder bill appears a cinch to pass after its anticipated move out of committee today. It is co-sponsored by 39 of the 49-member Senate.

It would prescribe a maximum $100 fine and - or two months imprisonment for anyone who willfully disturbs or interfers with the orderly conduct of activities, administration or classes at a public school, college or university.

THOSE who molest students, faculty or administrators would be subect to a maximum $150 fine and - or three months in prison. "Vulgarities" committed at a college or school could result in a fine of $50 and-or 30 days in jail.

Gov. Shafer, meantime, announced appointment of a joint legislative - executive liaison committee to negotiate differences over his $2.52 billion budget and tax program.

Members are House Speaker Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia; House Majority Leader K. Leroy Irvis, D-Allegheny; House Minority Leader Lee A. Conaldson Jr., R-Allegheny; Sens. T. Newell Wood, R-Luzerne; Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland and Martin L. Murray, D-Luzerne; Budget Secretary Arthur F. Sampson; Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett and Hugh Flaherty, the governor's legislative secretary.

Resolution Asks U.S. Aid Israel In Arab Conflict

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—About 3,000 persons adopted a resolution Sunday at the Congregation Beth Israel Synagogue urging the United States to give total support to Israel in the conflict with Arab countries.

The resolution also asked the Security Council of the United Nations to condemn Iraq for what it termed "savage and brutal murders of persons of all faiths."

"The U. S. should lead the world in insisting that permanent and just peace cannot be imposed on the Middle East by outside powers, but only as a result of negotiations between Israel" and the Arabs, the resolution said.

Rabbi Arthur Lelvyeld of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the American Jewish Congress, said the danger is not a possible attack on Israel but a "Munich-like" settlement constructed by the great powers.

"The Soviet Union would like to achieve through appeasement what she could not win on the battlefield," Rabbi Lelvyeld said.

$20,000 In Damages Caused By Vandalism

Courts Approval Also Due

Quick OK Seen On Bill To Outlaw School Riots

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate leaders predicted quick passage this week of bills to outlaw disorderly conduct at schools and colleges and implement the community courts provision of the constitution.

As the Senate and House reconvened, the chairman of the important House Appropriations Committee predicted flatly the legislature won't pass a state income tax bill this year.

The Senate is returning after a two-week recess while the House met three days last week. A number of committee meetings also are scheduled during the week.

SEN. Clarence Bell, R-Delaware, said he expects the Senate to pass today the community courts bill which authorizes to abolish justices of the peace or magesterial systems and replace them with community courts.

Sen. Robert Fleming, R-Allegheny, the President Pro Tem, said he expects passage by Wednesday of the anti-disorder bill, which was to come out of the Judiciary Committee today.

At the same time, Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia, chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee said he sees no chance of the General Assembly approving Gov. Shafer's income tax proposal.

MULLEN was the first lawmaker in either house to predict flatly that the proposed levy has no chance of becoming law, although leaders of both parties have said repeatedly they detect little sentiment for it.

"How could you have an income tax when the Republican administration can't get a member of its own party to sponsor the bill?" Mullen asked.

There also was some indication that the community courts bill will face tough sledding in the Democratic-controlled House even if it glides through the Republican-dominated Senate this week.

House Democrats expressed concern privately over reports that the Shafer administration wanted the bill amended to provide that the governor would appoint interim judges to community courts until such a time as they could be elected in a general election after first winning their party's nomination in a primary.

As it now stands, the candidates would be chosen by political leaders to run in the general election this fall because many probably community court district approvals can't have been decided until the May primary.

BELL said that although "this method of handpicking candidates is unfortunate," he preferred it to letting the governor make interim appointments.

"I'll oppose on the Senate floor any attempt to amend the selection provision of the bill," Bell remarked. "I have heard no objections from any source as to the bill's contents. And unless there are defects, I see no reason why the measure can't move today."

Fleming's anti - disorder bill appears a cinch to pass after its anticipated move out of committee today. It is co-sponsored by 39 of the 49-member Senate.

It would prescribe a maximum $100 fine and - or two months imprisonment for anyone who willfully disturbs or interfers with the orderly conduct of activities, administration or classes at a public school, college or university.

THOSE who molest students, faculty or administrators would be subect to a maximum $150 fine and - or three months in prison. "Vulgarities" committed at a college or school could result in a fine of $50 and-or 30 days in jail.

Gov. Shafer, meantime, announced appointment of a joint legislative - executive liaison committee to negotiate differences over his $2.52 billion budget and tax program.

Members are House Speaker Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia; House Majority Leader K. Leroy Irvis, D-Allegheny; House Minority Leader Lee A. Conaldson Jr., R-Allegheny; Sens. T. Newell Wood, R-Luzerne; Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland and Martin L. Murray, D-Luzerne; Budget Secretary Arthur F. Sampson; Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett and Hugh Flaherty, the governor's legislative secretary.

Resolution Asks U.S. Aid Israel In Arab Conflict

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—About 3,000 persons adopted a resolution Sunday at the Congregation Beth Israel Synagogue urging the United States to give total support to Israel in the conflict with Arab countries.

The resolution also asked the Security Council of the United Nations to condemn Iraq for what it termed "savage and brutal murders of persons of all faiths."

"The U. S. should lead the world in insisting that permanent and just peace cannot be imposed on the Middle East by outside powers, but only as a result of negotiations between Israel" and the Arabs, the resolution said.

Rabbi Arthur Lelvyeld of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the American Jewish Congress, said the danger is not a possible attack on Israel but a "Munich-like" settlement constructed by the great powers.

"The Soviet Union would like to achieve through appeasement what she could not win on the battlefield," Rabbi Lelvyeld said.

Potters End 17-1 As Christian's 33 Pace Win At Weirton

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Saying that Ashland College is the number one defensive team in the country is like saying that there is a basket scored in every basketball game, it's that sure a bet.

The Eagles are trying for a game where the opponents don't score a basket, and the odds against it aren't as great as you might think, the way Ashland plays defense. Their defensive average of 30 points a game would do credit to some football teams, and one of these days the Ashland score is going to be mistaken for a hockey result.

IT APPEARED the latter might be the case at Steubenville Saturday. People who came late must have thought the scoreboard had broken. Seven minutes and 50 seconds elapsed before either team scored. It took Steubenville 10 minutes and 45 seconds to get on the board. It was 7-4 with about seven minutes left in the half before Ashland got hot to take a 23-7 halftime lead. Steubenville threw in 13 points in the second 20 minutes, despite a nine-minute scoreless spell, to make the final tally 48-20.

Ashland is averaging less points on offense than any other team in the country is giving up on defense, yet the Eagles have the third best scoring margin in the country. Ashland is scoring 50 and yielding 30, while the next best defense gives up 55.

When someone on the Eagles hits a double-figure game, they throw a party. When someone on the other team scores double-figures, the campus is draped in black crepe for a week. Coach Bill Musselman isn't happy if the other TEAM hits double figures.

The Eagles are so concerned about the other team not scoring that they yell "Defense" every time they break a huddle.

MUSSELMAN learned his defense under Ray Mears at Wittenberg, but has added some new twists. The formations are hard to describe, and are best called a "match" or "Combination" defense. It seems to be a zone out front and man-to-man under the basket, and there never is a man open, even if someone is double-teamed.

Steubenville never got a shot within 10-feet, except on tips, and most of the time the Barons were forced to fire up 20-footers. They hit 13 per cent the first half and 22 per cent for the game.

On offense, its claimed that Ashland holds the ball, but this isn't so. On one occassion the Eagles passed 18 times before shooting, but they won't pass up good shots and averaged only four passes before every shot.

With a front line standing 6-9, 6-8 and 6-7, the Eagles control the boards, especially on defense. Chief offensive threat is 6-9 Wayne Sokolowski. If his defender sags off, he is deadly from outside. If played tightly, he can drive for the basket or hook.

Steubenville played a good game Saturday, especially in the beginning. They didn't give up an easy shot and controlled the defensive boards. But once Ashland scored, the Baron fans seemed to sense that the Eagles would win. Even if it only ended 2-0.

Defense Poor As Riders Run

Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters finished the regular basketball season with a 17-1 record for the second year in a row, again matching the best record in the history of the school, with a 65-55 win over Weirton on the losers' floor Saturday night.

Jerry Christian scored a career high of 33 points before fouling out late in the game. Rick Steffen added 10 markers.

Coach Clint McConnell was not happy with the performance of the team, which appeared to be a little overconfident. "Frankly, we stunk out the joint," he said. "We looked like five guys who had never met on defense." McConnell indicated that the team wouldn't go far in tournament play with a performance like Saturday's, but said later that things were straightened out after a practice.

Weirton must be given credit for forcing the Potters to extend themselves. The Red Riders, 12-8, controlled the tempo of the game the first half, playing the usual West Virginia run-and-gun style. Leaping Terry Strong led Weirton with 15 points, while Nick Greiner, Tom Battista and Ron Smith each had 11. Weirton outrebounded the Potters 39-38, as Strong had 12 and Christian 14. The Riders committed 19 turnovers to 12 by East Liverpool.

East Liverpool led 5-0, but Weirton tied the game in a hurry and four points in a row gave the home team a 14-12 lead at the end of the first period. The second period remained close for a while, and Weirton had its last lead at 23-22. Christian hit a close shot and then scored on a fast break, and the Potters reeled off eight in a row to go seven up. But Weirton hit two baskets in the last 40 seconds of the half to narrow the gap.

The Riders used a 2-3 zone, but sagged three men on Christian. The big Potter center was disconcerted by the tactics, and missed six shots in a row after hitting his opening basket. Bill Montgomery, usually the East Liverpool outside threat, also missed six shots in a row after hitting on his opening try, and never did find the range, winding up 2 for 14. Montgomery made some excellent passes for assists, however.

In the second half the Potters controlled the tempo better, slowing things down. Their shooting also improved, to 54 per cent compared to 31 per cent for the first half. The final percentage was 41, compared to 40 for the losers.

Christian muscled in for three straight baskets to open the second half to boost the margin to nine points, and the lead never fell below seven after that. The margin reached 17 before the home team got the last seven points of the game.

John Johnson and Dan Cunningham each got baskets in key spots, breaking ties in the first half, and Steve Douglas filled in ably when Christian got his fourth foul with 1:42 left in the third period. But, as McConnell pointed out, it was one of the worst defensive efforts of the year for East Liverpool. Only Warren Western Reserve and Martins Ferry had scored more points.

The reserves of Laine Turner finished the season with a 10-8 record, as they won the opening game 66-57. Joe March scored 20 points in the first half and ended with 24. Kevin LeMasters added 15 and Randy McVay 10. Ralph Seevers had some excellent assists. Wally Phillips had 12 points and Dave Reese 11 for the losers. Don Reese grabbed 14 rebounds as Weirton had a 54-46 edge in this department. LeMasters had 12 for the winners.

After a see-saw first period had ended 15-15, Bobby Moore connected on a foul and a basket and East Liverpool led the rest of the way. The Potters committed 21 turnovers to 18 for the losers, and got 19 less shots, but hit 44 per cent to 29 per cent by the losers.

League Races Unsettled

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's the time of year when the top college basketball teams are looking out for the mailman and their opponents.

The former brings glad tidings—bids to the NCAA and National Invitation tournaments which begin going out Tuesday. The latter can bring trouble.

Most conference championships mean automatic bids to the NCAA, but, of the conference teams in The Associated Press' Top 20, only top-ranked UCLA, No. 6 Kentucky and No. 9 Purdue appear to be in firm control of their races. And even they are not entirely in the clear.

Third-ranked North Carolina, tied with South Carolina for first in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the fifth-ranked Davidson, regular season winner of the Southern Conference, must win the annual tournaments in their leagues to get NCAA bids. Should they lose, they could still get ito the NIT.

Two independent schools, seventh-ranked St. John's of New York and No. 8 Duquesne are in line for two of the NCAA's 10 at-large bids, as well as for invitations from the NIT.

Another independent, fourth-ranked LaSalle, is on NCAA probation and can look forward only to completing a 23-1 season by beating West Chester Tuesday night.

Lew Alcindor pumped in 25 points as UCLA thrashed Oregon 103-69 last Saturday night to boost its over-all record to 22-0 and its Pacific—8 mark to 10-0. The Bruins lead Washington State by three games with four remaining.

Kentucky, 13-1, overcame a 45-point show by Pete Maravich to top Louisiana State 103-89 and make its Southeastern Conference record 13-1, two games better than Tennessee, with four games left.

Purdue, 16-4, got 32 points from Rick Mount and walloped Northwestern to move closer to its first Big Ten title in 29 years. The Boilermakers now have a 9-1 conference record and a two-game lead, with four games left, over 10th-ranked Ohio State, which beat Iowa 88-81 Saturday.

Santa Clara, 22-1, remained on top the West Coast Athletic Conference by bouncing back from Friday's upset by San Jose State to whip UC Santa Barbara 91-71. The Broncos, 9-1, in league play, lead San Jose by one game with four to play.

North Carolina 21-2, trounced The Citadel 106-59; Davidson, 22-2, took Virginia Tech 79-71, and St. John's, 20-3, downed Colgate 77-62.

LaSalle and Duquesne, 17-3, were the only members of the Top Ten idle Saturday, but Duquesne beat DePaul 87-68 Sunday.

In other action Saturday, Louisville moved into first in the Missouri Valley Conference by edging Cincinnati 72-68 as Drake upset Tulsa 87-78. Drake, now tied with Tulsa for second a game back, plays at Louisville Saturday.

E. Palestine Beats Salem In Tourney

YOUNSGTOWN — East Palestine pulled off one of the major upsets of the season here Saturday night, eliminating Salem from the Class AA Sectional Tournament at South Field House 63-52.

There was another major upset in the opening game of the doubleheader as Ursuline whipped Boardman 86-54.

Joe Lewis paced the Bulldogs with 27 points and Bill Knight added 10. East Palestine is now 10-10, and meets Ursuline for the section title Friday night.

Jim King led the Quakers with 17, Scott Cody had 12 and George Spack 11. Larry Hrvatin was held scoreless.

After a close first period East Palestine jumped to a 31-22 halftime lead and led the whole second half. Salem came back to within four points with two minutes to go, but the Bulldogs pulled away.

Salem was forced to foul in the final stages and the Bulldogs connected on 15 free throws in the final period. For the game, Salem hit 21 of 72 fo 29 per cent, while East Palestine hit 19 of 54 for 37 per cent, winning the game with 25 fouls in 39 attempts.

Salem ends the season 15-5.

The East Liverpool Potters finished the regular basketball season with a 17-1 record for the second year in a row, again matching the best record in the history of the school, with a 65-55 win over Weirton on the losers' floor Saturday night.

Jerry Christian scored a career high of 33 points before fouling out late in the game. Rick Steffen added 10 markers.

Coach Clint McConnell was not happy with the performance of the team, which appeared to be a little overconfident. "Frankly, we stunk out the joint," he said. "We looked like five guys who had never met on defense." McConnell indicated that the team wouldn't go far in tournament play with a performance like Saturday's, but said later that things were straightened out after a practice.

Weirton must be given credit for forcing the Potters to extend themselves. The Red Riders, 12-8, controlled the tempo of the game the first half, playing the usual West Virginia run-and-gun style. Leaping Terry Strong led Weirton with 15 points, while Nick Greiner, Tom Battista and Ron Smith each had 11. Weirton outrebounded the Potters 39-38, as Strong had 12 and Christian 14. The Riders committed 19 turnovers to 12 by East Liverpool.

East Liverpool led 5-0, but Weirton tied the game in a hurry and four points in a row gave the home team a 14-12 lead at the end of the first period. The second period remained close for a while, and Weirton had its last lead at 23-22. Christian hit a close shot and then scored on a fast break, and the Potters reeled off eight in a row to go seven up. But Weirton hit two baskets in the last 40 seconds of the half to narrow the gap.

The Riders used a 2-3 zone, but sagged three men on Christian. The big Potter center was disconcerted by the tactics, and missed six shots in a row after hitting his opening basket. Bill Montgomery, usually the East Liverpool outside threat, also missed six shots in a row after hitting on his opening try, and never did find the range, winding up 2 for 14. Montgomery made some excellent passes for assists, however.

In the second half the Potters controlled the tempo better, slowing things down. Their shooting also improved, to 54 per cent compared to 31 per cent for the first half. The final percentage was 41, compared to 40 for the losers.

Christian muscled in for three straight baskets to open the second half to boost the margin to nine points, and the lead never fell below seven after that. The margin reached 17 before the home team got the last seven points of the game.

John Johnson and Dan Cunningham each got baskets in key spots, breaking ties in the first half, and Steve Douglas filled in ably when Christian got his fourth foul with 1:42 left in the third period. But, as McConnell pointed out, it was one of the worst defensive efforts of the year for East Liverpool. Only Warren Western Reserve and Martins Ferry had scored more points.

The reserves of Laine Turner finished the season with a 10-8 record, as they won the opening game 66-57. Joe March scored 20 points in the first half and ended with 24. Kevin LeMasters added 15 and Randy McVay 10. Ralph Seevers had some excellent assists. Wally Phillips had 12 points and Dave Reese 11 for the losers. Don Reese grabbed 14 rebounds as Weirton had a 54-46 edge in this department. LeMasters had 12 for the winners.

After a see-saw first period had ended 15-15, Bobby Moore connected on a foul and a basket and East Liverpool led the rest of the way. The Potters committed 21 turnovers to 18 for the losers, and got 19 less shots, but hit 44 per cent to 29 per cent by the losers.

League Races Unsettled

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's the time of year when the top college basketball teams are looking out for the mailman and their opponents.

The former brings glad tidings—bids to the NCAA and National Invitation tournaments which begin going out Tuesday. The latter can bring trouble.

Most conference championships mean automatic bids to the NCAA, but, of the conference teams in The Associated Press' Top 20, only top-ranked UCLA, No. 6 Kentucky and No. 9 Purdue appear to be in firm control of their races. And even they are not entirely in the clear.

Third-ranked North Carolina, tied with South Carolina for first in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the fifth-ranked Davidson, regular season winner of the Southern Conference, must win the annual tournaments in their leagues to get NCAA bids. Should they lose, they could still get ito the NIT.

Two independent schools, seventh-ranked St. John's of New York and No. 8 Duquesne are in line for two of the NCAA's 10 at-large bids, as well as for invitations from the NIT.

Another independent, fourth-ranked LaSalle, is on NCAA probation and can look forward only to completing a 23-1 season by beating West Chester Tuesday night.

Lew Alcindor pumped in 25 points as UCLA thrashed Oregon 103-69 last Saturday night to boost its over-all record to 22-0 and its Pacific—8 mark to 10-0. The Bruins lead Washington State by three games with four remaining.

Kentucky, 13-1, overcame a 45-point show by Pete Maravich to top Louisiana State 103-89 and make its Southeastern Conference record 13-1, two games better than Tennessee, with four games left.

Purdue, 16-4, got 32 points from Rick Mount and walloped Northwestern to move closer to its first Big Ten title in 29 years. The Boilermakers now have a 9-1 conference record and a two-game lead, with four games left, over 10th-ranked Ohio State, which beat Iowa 88-81 Saturday.

Santa Clara, 22-1, remained on top the West Coast Athletic Conference by bouncing back from Friday's upset by San Jose State to whip UC Santa Barbara 91-71. The Broncos, 9-1, in league play, lead San Jose by one game with four to play.

North Carolina 21-2, trounced The Citadel 106-59; Davidson, 22-2, took Virginia Tech 79-71, and St. John's, 20-3, downed Colgate 77-62.

LaSalle and Duquesne, 17-3, were the only members of the Top Ten idle Saturday, but Duquesne beat DePaul 87-68 Sunday.

In other action Saturday, Louisville moved into first in the Missouri Valley Conference by edging Cincinnati 72-68 as Drake upset Tulsa 87-78. Drake, now tied with Tulsa for second a game back, plays at Louisville Saturday.

Midland, Mt. Lebanon Play In WPIAL Friday

Mt. Lebanon, coached by former Midland coach Dick Black, is the opening round foe of the Midland Leopards in the WPIAL Class A basketball tournament.

The teams will meet in the second game of a doubleheader at the Pitt Field House Friday night, with game time set for 9 p.m. The Section 15 winner, Quaker Valley or Avonworth, will meet Mohawk in a Class B game in the first game of the doubleheader.

Tourney favorite Farrell, in the upper bracket, drew a first round bye and will play the winner of Norwin - Munhall at the Civic Arena on March 3. The other game that night will be Donora vs. the Section 10 winner, either Stowe-Rox or Montour. The Section 20 title will be decided tonight at the Pitt Field House. The upper bracket semi-finals are March 6 at the Civic Arena and the lower bracket semi-finals March 7 at the Civic Arena. The finals are March 10.

OGILVIE'S MENS DEPARTMENT FIRST FLOOR

More Players Sign, Defy Baseball Strike

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Take it from Ernie Banks: "Everything will be fine in '69!"

Banks, of course, is the eternal optimist. And the Sunshine Kid really wasn't thinking about the general state of the game of baseball this winter when he issued his annual pronouncement on the Chicago Cubs' pennant prospects.

Or was he?

Despite the impasse in the owner-player pension hassle, with its accompanying player boycott of spring training camps, there were indications from a couple of high places during the weekend that a 1969 season might come off after all.

Saturday, American League President Joe Cronin declared that AL play will begin, on schedule, April 7, "no matter what."

Sunday night, new Commissioner Bowie Kuhn cut short a Florida vacation-orientation trip and returned to New York for today's scheduled pension negotiations, saying he believes a settlement can be reached this week.

And, despite player spokesman Marvin Miller's insistence that virtually all the name players were "holding the line," chinks continued to appear in the association's armor.

Carl Yastrzemski, Boston's three-time AL batting champion, hinted Sunday he might sign a Red Sox contract and be on hand Wednesday for the club's first full scale workout at Winter Haven, Fla. Ken Harrelson, signed by the Red Sox last summer, said earlier he intends to report to camp.

Shortstop Luis Aparicio, who signed his 1969 pact last fall, reported to the Chicago White Sox' Sarasota, Fla., training base and said he'd be in uniform for today's drill.

The New York Yankees reported that 37 of the 43 players on their spring roster either have signed contracts or agreed to terms, and the Mets said they were prepared to play their exhibition schedule with or without established players.

The owners turned down a players' compromise proposal of a $5.9 million pension package last Friday and asked that their own $5.3 million offer, rejected unanimously by the 24 club player representatives, be put to a vote of all the players. They agreed to another bargaining session today but refused to join the players in a meeting with a federal mediator.

The players' negotiators said they would attend the meeting with Frank Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, anyway.

Kuhn visited the Mets' training base Sunday and took a few swings in the batting cage before flying to New York "to do everything I can to help get the people together."

"My place is in New York in this situation," he said. "That's why I'm going back," I expect to be back in Florida on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Indians Sign Luis Tiant

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Pitcher Luis Tiant arrived at the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp here Sunday and announced that he had accepted a 1968 contract.

The 28-year-old Cuban righthander did not disclose his salary saying only that it was more than $50,000 but less than $55,000.

Tiant had a 21-9 record and a 1.60 earned run average last year and was the Indians' first 20-game winner since 1962.

Tiant was to be joined by several other players here today for the start of spring training Wednesday morning. Others will not report pending a settlement of a pension dispute between the Players' Association and the club owners.

Only six National Leaguers played in more than 100 games at third base last season.

Miami Wins, Keeps Lead In ABA East

By The Associated Press

The way the Miami Floridians are playing, they can dissipate a big surplus, then make up a huge deficit and still wind up winning for free.

That's the way they captured their 11th game in 12 starts Sunday night, hanging onto their one-game lead in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association.

The Floridians jumped to a 16-point lead early in their game against Denver and then fell behind by 17 points in the final period before coming back at the free throw line for a 109-106 victory over the Rockets in Denver.

Minnesota remained in second place behind Miami with a 104-102 decision at home over Oakland, the runaway Western Leader. In the only other game Houston downed the visiting New York Nets 133-121.

On Saturday Kentucky tripped Indiana 118-108, New Orleans stopped the Nets 139-131 and Oakland whipped Los Angeles 101-93.

In the National Basketball Association Sunday, Baltimore crushed Cincinnati 126-109, Atlanta routed San Diego 122-92, Milwaukee edged Phoenix 107-103, Seattle surprised Boston 118-116 and Philadelphia slipped by Los Angeles 125-121.

After its roller coaster ride in taking and giving points, Miami wrapped up its victory on four free throws by Andy Anderson and Don Sidle in the last minute. The Floridians totaled 14 of 14 from the line in the final period, overcoming Larry Jones' total 34 points, for Denver.

Minnesota became the first Eastern Division team to beat Oakland this season in 21 games by barely hanging onto a 104-96 lead in the final two minutes. Tom Washington scored 29 points for the Pipers.

Steve Kramer, signed by Houston Saturday and competing in his first game since playing for Anaheim last year, scored 29 points and led a second quarter rally when the Mavericks hit 16 of 22 field shots to take the lead for good.

Trevino Wins By 7 In Tucson Open Golf

TUCSON, Arix. (AP) — Lee Trevino dropped putts in the wind, rain, snow and also in the sunshine as he won the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament and observed:

"Putting is like a wife. Sometimes she'll be good to you."

The 29-year-old ex - Marine from El Paso, who hit the jackpot U.S. Open with his first victory on the pro golf tour in 1968, visited the winner's circle for $20,000 Sunday.

He met one early challenge and then flew off to a seven-stroke victory with a 66 on his final round, on a balmy day, and a 271-total-equalling the tournament record since the event moved to the Tucson National Golf Club course in 1965.

"If you putt good, your game goes good," declared Trevino, who will leave the tour for a week to visit his wife and 3-year-old daughter in El Paso.

"You know, I called my wife on Saturday night and told her I had a five-stroke lead, and she didn't believe me. I wish she could have been here."

Trevino had fired a 68 on Saturday in miserable weather and then added his six under par on Sunday to capture the title, 17 under regulation figures for the 72-hole tournament.

Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex., finished second with a 68-278, with Bert Yancey of Tallahassee, Fla., third at 69-279 for $11,400 and $7,100, respectively.

Tied for third were Don Bies of Seattle at 69-280, Gene Littler of San Diego with a 68, and Dr. Ed Updegraff, 46, a urologist, shot a 67 on his final round. Then he failed to sign his card.

Technically, he was diaqualified, but Dr. Updegraff, couldn't collect money anyway since he chooses to remain an amateur. Bies and Littler each got $4,400.

Right now, it's home to El Paso, for Trevino, and even though the Doral Tournament at Miami might be lucrative, he's skipping that as the other pros move from the West to Miami.

"I promised my wife and little girl that I'd be home," Trevino explained. "That's where I'm going."

Ohio Publinx Set In Dayton

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Public Golfers Association board of directors, meeting here Saturday, announced its annual Public Links Tournament will be held in Dayton Aug. 5-8

The first 36 holes will be played at Madden Park and Community courses.

The board said the entry field would be increased from 240 to 300 participants. The huge field will be cut to the low 120 after 36 holes and to the low 60 after 54 holes.

The association's senior tournament will be staged Sept. 20-21 at the Heather Downs South course in Toledo.

Paul Tulga, Columbus, is president of the association; Frank Piper, Sandusky, first vice president; E. O. Gifford, Columbus, treasurer; Joe Patton, Steubenville, secretary, and Dick Widdis, Columbus, is assistant secretary and treasurer.

Retained as vice presidents were Fritz Howell, Columbus; Henry Meiers, Cleveland; Jack Thornton, Springfield, and Hank Sawicki, Toledo.

Charles Town Race Won By Miss Rubin

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.—(AP) — It was a team effort that enabled Barbara Jo Rubin to make thoroughbred racing history and become the first female to win a pari-mutuel race at a United States' first-track.

The 19-year-old brunette rode Cohesian to victory in the ninth at Charles Town Race Track Saturday night, scoring by a neck over Reely Beeg, the stablemate ridden by Larry Kunitake.

There was some criticism about Kunitake's stretch ride, but not from the track stewards — one of whom commented, "Well, it looks as if the age of chivalry isn't dead yet."

"Kunitake got the lead and may have been the best horse," said steward Stanley Green, "but it appeared that he looked over and saw Barbara's horse was still running and then just folded up and finished the race."

"It was apparent what Larry was doing," Green said, "but nothing was wrong. If another horse looked like a threat to split the entry or maybe beat one of the two horses, then Larry would have been obligated to keep going."

Miss Rubin is riding under a temporary license, after a second race, stewards will review her performance and decide whether to issue a permanent apprentice license.

Stargell Reports To Pirate Camp

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are scheduled to hold their first official full-squad training drill today.

Five pitchers, honoring the boycott of spring training, have not reported to camp. They are Tommie Sisk, Jim Bunning, Ronnie Kline, Bob Veale and Luke Walker.

Now the question centers on Roberto Clemente, Bill Mazeroski and Matty Alou.

Outfielder Willie Stargell reported to camp Saturday and was expected to suit up for today's drills.

Clemente, the Pirate star who fought an off year and injuries last season, has lent his name to every strong statement put out by the players in their battle with the owners.

The Atlanta Braves used five different first basemen during 1968.

Shortstop Luis Aparicio, who signed his 1969 pact last fall, reported to the Chicago White Sox' Sarasota, Fla., training base and said he'd be in uniform for today's drill.

The New York Yankees reported that 37 of the 43 players on their spring roster either have signed contracts or agreed to terms, and the Mets said they were prepared to play their exhibition schedule with or without established players.

The owners turned down a players' compromise proposal of a $5.9 million pension package last Friday and asked that their own $5.3 million offer, rejected unanimously by the 24 club player representatives, be put to a vote of all the players. They agreed to another bargaining session today but refused to join the players in a meeting with a federal mediator.

The players' negotiators said they would attend the meeting with Frank Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, anyway.

Kuhn visited the Mets' training base Sunday and took a few swings in the batting cage before flying to New York "to do everything I can to help get the people together."

"My place is in New York in this situation," he said. "That's why I'm going back." I expect to be back in Florida on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Indians Sign Luis Tiant

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Pitcher Luis Tiant arrived at the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp here Sunday and announced that he had accepted a 1968 contract.

The 28-year-old Cuban right-hander did not disclose his salary saying only that it was more than $50,000 but less than $55,000.

Tiant had a 21-9 record and a 1.60 earned run average last year and was the Indians' first 20-game winner since 1962.

Tiant was to be joined by several other players here today for the start of spring training Wednesday morning. Others will not report pending a settlement of a pension dispute between the Players' Association and the club owners.

Only six National Leaguers played in more than 100 games at third base last season.

Miami Wins, Keeps Lead In ABA East

By The Associated Press

The way the Miami Floridians are playing, they can dissipate a big surplus, then make up a huge deficit and still wind up winning for free.

That's the way they captured their 11th game in 12 starts Sunday night, hanging onto their one-game lead in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association.

The Floridians jumped to a 16-point lead early in their game against Denver and then fell behind by 17 points in the final period before coming back at the free throw line for a 109-106 victory over the Rockets in Denver.

Minnesota remained in second place behind Miami with a 104-102 decision at home over Oakland, the runaway Western Leader. In the only other game Houston downed the visiting New York Nets 133-121.

On Saturday Kentucky tripped Indiana 118-108, New Orleans stopped the Nets 139-131 and Oakland whipped Los Angeles 101-93.

In the National Basketball Association Sunday, Baltimore crushed Cincinnati 126-109, Atlanta routed San Diego 122-92, Milwaukee edged Phoenix 107-103, Seattle surprised Boston 118-116 and Philadelphia slipped by Los Angeles 125-121.

After its roller coaster ride in taking and giving points, Miami wrapped up its victory on four free throws by Andy Anderson and Don Sidle in the last minute. The Floridians totaled 14 of 14 from the line in the final period, overcoming Larry Jones' total 34 points, for Denver.

Minnesota became the first Eastern Division team to beat Oakland this season in 21 games by barely hanging onto a 104-96 lead in the final two minutes. Tom Washington scored 29 points for the Pipers.

Steve Kramer, signed by Houston Saturday and competing in his first game since playing for Anaheim last year, scored 29 points and led a second quarter rally when the Mavericks hit 16 of 22 field shots to take the lead for good.

Trevino Wins By 7 In Tucson Open Golf

TUCSON, Arix. (AP) — Lee Trevino dropped putts in the wind, rain, snow and also in the sunshine as he won the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament and observed:

"Putting is like a wife. Sometimes she'll be good to you."

The 29-year-old ex - Marine from El Paso, who hit the jackpot U.S. Open with his first victory on the pro golf tour in 1968, visited the winner's circle for $20,000 Sunday.

He met one early challenge and then flew off to a seven-stroke victory with a 66 on his final round, on a balmy day, and a 271-total-equalling the tournament record since the event moved to the Tucson National Golf Club course in 1965.

"If you putt good, your game goes good," declared Trevino, who will leave the tour for a week to visit his wife and 3-year-old daughter in El Paso.

"You know, I called my wife on Saturday night and told her I had a five-stroke lead, and she didn't believe me. I wish she could have been here."

Trevino had fired a 68 on Saturday in miserable weather and then added his six under par on Sunday to capture the title, 17 under regulation figures for the 72-hole tournament.

Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex., finished second with a 68-278, with Bert Yancey of Tallahassee, Fla., third at 69-279 for $11,400 and $7,100, respectively.

Tied for third were Don Bies of Seattle at 69-280, Gene Littler of San Diego with a 68, and Dr. Ed Updegraff, 46, a urologist, shot a 67 on his final round. Then he failed to sign his card.

Technically, he was diaqualified, but Dr. Updegraff, couldn't collect money anyway since he chooses to remain an amateur. Bies and Littler each got $4,400.

Right now, it's home to El Paso, for Trevino, and even though the Doral Tournament at Miami might be lucrative, he's skipping that as the other pros move from the West to Miami.

"I promised my wife and little girl that I'd be home," Trevino explained. "That's where I'm going."

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Public Golfers Association board of directors, meeting here Saturday, announced its annual Public Links Tournament will be held in Dayton Aug. 5-8

Charles Town Race Won By Miss Rubin

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.—(AP) — It was a team effort that enabled Barbara Jo Rubin to make thoroughbred racing history and become the first female to win a pari-mutuel race at a United States' first-track.

The 19-year-old brunette rode Cohesian to victory in the ninth at Charles Town Race Track Saturday night, scoring by a neck over Reely Beeg, the stablemate ridden by Larry Kunitake.

There was some criticism about Kunitake's stretch ride, but not from the track stewards — one of whom commented, "Well, it looks as if the age of chivalry isn't dead yet."

"Kunitake got the lead and may have been the best horse," said steward Stanley Green, "but it appeared that he looked over and saw Barbara's horse was still running and then just folded up and finished the race."

"It was apparent what Larry was doing," Green said, "but nothing was wrong. If another horse looked like a threat to split the entry or maybe beat one of the two horses, then Larry would have been obligated to keep going."

Miss Rubin is riding under a temporary license, after a second race, stewards will review her performance and decide whether to issue a permanent apprentice license.

Stargell Reports To Pirate Camp

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are scheduled to hold their first official full-squad training drill today.

Five pitchers, honoring the boycott of spring training, have not reported to camp. They are Tommie Sisk, Jim Bunning, Ronnie Kline, Bob Veale and Luke Walker.

Now the question centers on Roberto Clemente, Bill Mazeroski and Matty Alou.

Outfielder Willie Stargell reported to camp Saturday and was expected to suit up for today's drills.

Clemente, the Pirate star who fought an off year and injuries last season, has lent his name to every strong statement put out by the players in their battle with the owners.

Mazeroski, the Pirate veteran second baseman, and Alou's actions are unknown.

The Atlanta Braves used five different first basemen during 1968.

Lakers Beaten

Atlanta Narrows Gap In NBA West Race

By The Associated Press

The Atlanta Hawks, who almost caught Los Angeles several weeks ago, are closing in again with the Lakers running into roadblocks again.

The Hawks clouted visiting San Diego 124-92, moving to within two games of the Western Division leading Lakers, who tripped over Philadelphia 125-121 in Los Angeles in National Basketball Association action Sunday night.

Atlanta, which pulled within one game of the Lakers earlier before faltering, now has won three straight while the Lakers have lost three in a row.

In other games, Baltimore clung to its four-game Eastern bulge with a 126-109 nationally televised romp over host Cincinnati, Milwaukee tripped Phoenix 107-103 in Green Bay, Wis., and Seattle surprised visiting Boston 118-116.

On Saturday, Milwaukee slipped by Detroit 108-108, San Diego upset New York 104-104, Boston clobbered Phoenix 124-100 and Philadelphia defeated San Francisco 129-122.

In the American Basketball Association Sunday, Miami beat Denver 109-106, Minnesota got by Oakland 104-102 and Houston topped the New York Nets 133-121.

The Hawks kept their hopes alive by rollicking to a 30-point lead at the end of the first quarter to settle the issue. Lou Hudson led them with 24 points while Elvin Hayes, the NBA's top scorer, was held to 15 for San Diego.

Philadelphia held on desperately in the final two minutes to beat the Lakers and former teammate Wilt Chamberlain for the fifth time in six games. The 76ers, second behind Baltimore, led 123-111 before the Lakers scored 10 straight points.

Hal Greer had 26 points and Billy Cunningham 22 for the 76ers, whose balanced scoring overcame Chamberlain's 36 points and 26 by Elgin Baylor.

Baltimore, hitting 60 per cent from the field, pulled away in the second period for an 18-point margin and coasted against the Royals. Ed Manning hit five of six shots and one free throw in the period to lead the Bullets. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati led all scorers with 31 points.

Seattle, trailing by eight points at the half, outscored Boston 34-20 in the third period, but needed Bob Rule's 20-foot jumper at the final buzzer to beat the Celtics. Len Wilkens had 35 points for the SuperSonics.

In a battle of last place clubs, Milwaukee won its fourth consecutive game as Len Chappell scored 24 points and Jon McGlocklin 23, picking up the slack for Flynn Robinson, held to 12 after scoring more than 40 in his last three games.

Lisbon Wins In Overtime, Gains Sectional Finals

STRUTHERS — Lisbon advanced to the finals of one bracket of the Class A sectional tournament here with a 73-66 overtime win over Pymatuning Valley Saturday night.

Jim Courtney led the way for the Blue Devils with 28 points. Roger James added 20, Frank Gardner 12 and Lee Smith 10.

Lisbon led most of the way until Pymatuning Valley knotted the count at 64 on a pair of fouls by Jim Loveland with 1:23 left in regulation. The Blue Devils then went on a 9-2 tear in the overtime for the win.

Lisbon meets North Lima for the section title Saturday night.

Goaltenders Bombed In Hockey Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor conditions in sports being what they are, the National Hockey League's goaltender's union may be filing a grievance today.

Unfair labor practices might be the appropriate charge but after the barrage of shots they were exposed to Sunday, the goalies may have trouble finding a representative in shape to represent them.

Detroit wore out two Philadelphia netminders, routing the Flyers 9-1 Sunday night and New York battered Boston 9-0. Minnesota socked it to Toronto 7-2 and Los Angeles nipped Oakland 4-3 in other games.

In Saturday's action, Montreal tripped Philadelphia 4-1, Chicago dropped Toronto 4-2, Pittsburgh squeezed past Detroit 3-2 and St. Louis stopped Los Angeles 3-1.

The Red Wings fired 49 shots at Bernie Parent and Doug Favell in the Flyer nets and ripped Philadelphia with Wayne Connelly, Pete Stemkowski and Frank Mahovlich scoring two goals apiece. Mahovlich's pair gave him 39 for the season.

Bruce MacGregor, Alex Delvecchio and Connelly had scored against Parent in the first period and when Nick Libbett made it 4-0 early in the second, Favell came in to play goal. But the barrage continued, interrupted only by Guy Gendron's third-period goal for the Flyers.

John Bench Holding Out From Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench, star catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, met with club officials Sunday but nothing came of the contract talks.

"We've given John what we consider to be a reasonable contract," said a Reds spokesman. "He rejected it. I don't think we will go any higher."

Bench, 20, was the 1968 National League rookie-of-the-year.

Also unsigned is Pete Rose, Cincinnati outfielder who copped the league's batting crown last season. He's reportedly asking for $72,000.

Shortstop Darrel Chaney reported for spring training Sunday and said he was after the starting job of Woody Woodward.

Woodward, player representative for the Reds, said earlier he will not report to the camp until the dispute with club owners over the player pension fund is settled. He was backup shortstop for Leo Cardenas, who was traded last November to the Minnesota Twins.

"No one has got the job yet," said Chaney, who will be 21 next month. "I'm going to give him a fight for it."

Chaney hit .231 with Ashville last season and had 23 home runs and 78 runs batted in. Also reporting was pitcher John Noriega, a teammate of Chancy last season who posted a 9-3 record.

North Lima Eliminates Columbiana

STRUTHERS — Columbiana concluded a dismal 3-16 season with a 57-50 loss to North Lima in Class A tournament play here Saturday night.

The Clippers led the whole game until the fourth period when North Lima star Bill McMeans, slowed by sickness, came off the bench and combined with John Toy to give the Zippers the win. Toy scored 9 points in the last period and ended with 24. McMeans was held to 7. Jim Hinerman had 20 and Frank Ringel 11 for the losers.

Lakers Beaten

Atlanta Narrows Gap In NBA West Race

By The Associated Press

The Atlanta Hawks, who almost caught Los Angeles several weeks ago, are closing in again with the Lakers running into roadblocks again.

The Hawks clouted visiting San Diego 124-92, moving to within two games of the Western Division leading Lakers, who tripped over Philadelphia 125-121 in Los Angeles in National Basketball Association action Sunday night.

Atlanta, which pulled within one game of the Lakers earlier before faltering, now has won three straight while the Lakers have lost three in a row.

In other games, Baltimore clung to its four-game Eastern bulge with a 126-109 nationally televised romp over host Cincinnati, Milwaukee tripped Phoenix 107-103 in Green Bay, Wis., and Seattle surprised visiting Boston 118-116.

On Saturday, Milwaukee slipped by Detroit 108-108, San Diego upset New York 104-104, Boston clobbered Phoenix 124-100 and Philadelphia defeated San Francisco 129-122.

In the American Basketball Association Sunday, Miami beat Denver 109-106, Minnesota got by Oakland 104-102 and Houston topped the New York Nets 133-121.

The Hawks kept their hopes alive by rollicking to a 30-point lead at the end of the first quarter to settle the issue. Lou Hudson led them with 24 points while Elvin Hayes, the NBA's top scorer, was held to 15 for San Diego.

Philadelphia held on desperately in the final two minutes to beat the Lakers and former teammate Wilt Chamberlain for the fifth time in six games. The 76ers, second behind Baltimore, led 123-111 before the Lakers scored 10 straight points.

Hal Greer had 26 points and Billy Cunningham 22 for the 76ers, whose balanced scoring overcame Chamberlain's 36 points and 26 by Elgin Baylor.

Baltimore, hitting 60 per cent from the field, pulled away in the second period for an 18-point margin and coasted against the Royals. Ed Manning hit five of six shots and one free throw in the period to lead the Bullets. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati led all scorers with 31 points.

Seattle, trailing by eight points at the half, outscored Boston 34-20 in the third period, but needed Bob Rule's 20-foot jumper at the final buzzer to beat the Celtics. Len Wilkens had 35 points for the SuperSonics.

In a battle of last place clubs, Milwaukee won its fourth consecutive game as Len Chappell scored 24 points and Jon McGlocklin 23, picking up the slack for Flynn Robinson, held to 12 after scoring more than 40 in his last three games.

Goaltenders Bombed In Hockey Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor conditions in sports being what they are, the National Hockey League's goaltender's union may be filing a grievance today.

Unfair labor practices might be the appropriate charge but after the barrage of shots they were exposed to Sunday, the goalies may have trouble finding a representative in shape to represent them.

Detroit wore out two Philadelphia netminders, routing the Flyers 9-1 Sunday night and New York battered Boston 9-0. Minnesota socked it to Toronto 7-2 and Los Angeles nipped Oakland 4-3 in other games.

In Saturday's action, Montreal tripped Philadelphia 4-1, Chicago dropped Toronto 4-2, Pittsburgh squeezed past Detroit 3-2 and St. Louis stopped Los Angeles 3-1.

The Red Wings fired 49 shots at Bernie Parent and Doug Favell in the Flyer nets and ripped Philadelphia with Wayne Connelly, Pete Stemkowski and Frank Mahovlich scoring two goals apiece. Mahovlich's pair gave him 39 for the season.

Bruce MacGregor, Alex Delvecchio and Connelly had scored against Parent in the first period and when Nick Libbett made it 4-0 early in the second, Favell came in to play goal. But the barrage continued, interrupted only by Guy Gendron's third-period goal for the Flyers.

John Bench Holding Out From Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench, star catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, met with club officials Sunday but nothing came of the contract talks.

"We've given John what we consider to be a reasonable contract," said a Reds spokesman. "He rejected it. I don't think we will go any higher."

Bench, 20, was the 1968 National League rookie-of-the-year.

Also unsigned is Pete Rose, Cincinnati outfielder who copped the league's batting crown last season. He's reportedly asking for $72,000.

Shortstop Darrel Chaney reported for spring training Sunday and said he was after the starting job of Woody Woodward.

Woodward, player representative for the Reds, said earlier he will not report to the camp until the dispute with club owners over the player pension fund is settled. He was backup shortstop for Leo Cardenas, who was traded last November to the Minnesota Twins.

"No one has got the job yet," said Chaney, who will be 21 next month. "I'm going to give him a fight for it."

Chaney hit .231 with Ashville last season and had 23 home runs and 78 runs batted in. Also reporting was pitcher John Noriega, a teammate of Chancy last season who posted a 9-3 record.

North Lima Eliminates Columbiana

STRUTHERS — Columbiana concluded a dismal 3-16 season with a 57-50 loss to North Lima in Class A tournament play here Saturday night.

The Clippers led the whole game until the fourth period when North Lima star Bill McMeans, slowed by sickness, came off the bench and combined with John Toy to give the Zippers the win. Toy scored 9 points in the last period and ended with 24. McMeans was held to 7. Jim Hinerman had 20 and Frank Ringel 11 for the losers.

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIAN ROUTES

QUESTION: Where did the Indians of North and South America come from?

ANSWER: Many experts believe that the ancestors of the American Indians came from Asia more than 20,000 years ago, when the Asian and American continents probably were connected by a land bridge between Siberia and Alaska. In 1925, a remarkable find was made near the town of Folsom, N.M. Diggers found several flint spear heads, beautifully shaped and chipped. These were among the bones of a kind of bison that lived in the Ice Age and is now extinct. It is now supposed that many of the big game animals of the Ice Age, such as the bison and hairy mammouth (shown in the picture), may have wandered over the land bridge with ancient man following them — for the early men existed by killing game. Then tribes of such men moved down the North and South American continents, as shown by the white arrows. About 9000 years ago, some of these people had worked their way down to the southern tip of South America. Some Indians remained as hunters; others planted corn and built settlements.

(Brian Crispell of San Mateo, Calif., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
